

JAPANESE LAND AND AIR TROOPS AT SHANGHAI AS FORCES PREPARE FOR MAJOR ENGAGEMENT

Detectives Swoop On Sunday Shows, Arrest Managers

Thirteen Theater Heads Ordered To Appear in Recorder's Court on Charge of Violating City Code Section.

MRS. J. E. ANDREWS IS COMPLAINANT

Chief Beavers Orders Arrests on Request of Civic Worker; Pastors Hit Sunday Show Move.

Thirteen Atlanta theater managers were arrested Sunday afternoon on charges of violating Section 3131 of the city code and given summonses to appear in recorder's court to answer to the charges.

Swooping down upon the managers, who felt secure in the belief no action would be taken in view of the fact that net proceeds were to go to charity, four detectives visited the show houses. Detectives Claude Carroll and D. L. Taylor served downtown theaters with the summonses and Detectives Ben Gillespie and J. J. Cowan served neighborhood houses.

Managers of the larger theaters will appear before Recorder John L. Cone Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and the others will face Recorder A. W. Callaway at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Margeson Left Alone.

Of the 14 theaters open Sunday, only the Paramount, operated by Mrs. M. H. Margeson, was not visited by Detectives Carroll and Taylor, who served the summonses in the downtown section.

Beginning shortly after the moving picture houses opened at 2 o'clock the officers searched out those open and gave the manager of each a summons. It is claimed by opponents of Sunday amusements for Atlanta that Section 3131 of the ordinance forbids the operation of shows on Sunday.

The complaint against the managers for operating on Sunday was filed by Mrs. J. E. Andrews, chairman of the Women's Georgia Commission for Law Enforcement, it was said by Chief of Police James L. Beavers, who instructed the officers to make the arrests.

Later in the afternoon Mrs. Andrews personally visited several of the theaters to confirm the fact that charges were made against the managers. She said her act was prompted by a desire to enforce the city law to change them if they did not meet with the approval of citizens.

Mayson Cites Law.

City Attorney James L. Mayson said that Chief Beavers informed him over the telephone that the shows were being operated on Sunday and that Mrs. Andrews had made a formal complaint, and asked what he should do about it. Mayson said that Beavers wanted to know if Sunday movies are illegal, and he told the chief, "That is the law—that shows run on Sunday constituted a violation of the city laws."

Chief Beavers said that a case was not made against Mrs. Margeson because "her case already has been adjudicated and the court held that she had not committed an offense."

The others, against whom cases were

Continued in Page 2, Column 7.

In Other Pages

Radio Programs	3
Secretary Hawkins	3
Editorial Page	4
Peter Van Patten	4
William Brady	4
Hollis Merrick	4
Society	5
News of Georgia	5
Caroline Chatfield	6
Culbertson on Bridge	6
Daily Cross Word Puzzle	6
Martin's Summer	6
Page of Comics	7
Sport Pages	8
Stokes McCall's "Break of the Day"	8
Jimmy Jones	9
Theater Programs	9
Tarzan	10
Atlanta's Wants	10
Financial	11
Cross Sections	12

CONSTITUTION WANT ADS DO PRODUCE RESULTS

Buy, sell, exchange. Whatever your desire may be, you can do it better and more profitably with a well-worded want ad in The Constitution.

These swift messengers of service are ever alert to carry your message to a vast and responsive audience.

Tell it with a Constitution want ad and get results.

Read and Use The Constitution's Want Ad Pages

"First in the Day—First to Pay"

ROOSEVELT BLOC ANSERS SHOUSE IN RENEWED DRIVE

Backers of N. Y. Governor Determined To Gain People's Mandate on Delegates.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The forces of democracy supporting the candidacy of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, for the party's presidential nomination have given an unequivocal answer to the recent proposal of Chairman Jonett Shouse, of the democratic national executive committee, that the various uncommitted delegates to the forthcoming national convention, in a diplomatic, but nonetheless forceful manner, leaders of the Roosevelt campaign let it be known that the answer to the Shouse recommendation was to be a highly organized and intensive fight in every state where the political properties permit them to enter.

In keeping with this determination they are now mobilizing their forces for a militant campaign whose objective will be to win the nomination not after but before the convention meets.

The campaign, it is asserted, will be carried to every state in the Union, except those in which a favorite son contender of serious proportions is in the running, together with Massachusetts and perhaps one or two others where it is not thought wise to antagonize sentiment which at the moment appears to be leaning toward the doubtful but receptive candidacy of former Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Revealed at Capital.

Plans of the Roosevelt forces became known after the arrival in Washington of Chairman James Farley, of the New York state democratic committee, who has been in charge of the preliminary Roosevelt campaign.

Farley, who came to the city Saturday to join Homer Cummings, of Connecticut, another Roosevelt leader.

The Connecticut man, a former high official of the democratic national committee, has been conferring with an influential group of democratic United States senators and congressmen from the south and middle west during the last few days. Further conferences, which were held Saturday, were actively participated in by Farley, who later visited the house press gallery. He assured newspapermen that the New York governor would be nominated on the first ballot at the Chicago convention next June.

Mr. Farley said he had no appointments in Washington but was "just visiting around."

"I paid my respects to Speaker Garner," said Mr. Farley, "shook hands and said goodbye. I also saw Mr. Clegg, who has an important bearing upon his aspiration to carry the democratic banner."

Today with his counsel, Samuel L. Tamm, Mr. Roosevelt completed his arrangements for the public hearing next Tuesday on a demand that Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, of New York, traced it to Washington, charging "that Roosevelt was not instead of a general investigation of the merits, but a check on the offices of Mr. Roosevelt's administration."

Democratic leaders have rushed to condemn the proposed investigation, calling it a political gesture to "stop Roosevelt" and sidetrack the democrats in this year's state election. Senate Leader John J. Dunningan, of New York, traced it to Washington, charging "that Roosevelt was not instead of a general investigation of the merits, but a check on the offices of Mr. Roosevelt's administration."

Clementine Governor Lehman, speaking at Rochester, called it a "stark republican" proposition. The republicans, however, contend the investigation is all to check state departmental expenditures and to eliminate needless bureaus and workers; the investigation will go on through the summer and fall.

The Farley hearing in the minds of thousands is more than a legal procedure to determine if a county officer is fit to hold office. It is to these thousands a struggle between Tammany and its foes with Roosevelt as the umpire.

ROOSEVELT FACES DUAL STATE CRISIS

Governor Will Hear Farley Case While Legislature Pushes Probe Move

ALBANY, Feb. 14.—(AP)—With his long battle for reelection for his presidential candidacy, Governor Roosevelt this week is involved in two events in Albany that undoubtedly will have an important bearing upon his aspiration to carry the democratic banner.

Today with his counsel, Samuel L. Tamm, Mr. Roosevelt completed his arrangements for the public hearing next Tuesday on a demand that Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, of New York, traced it to Washington, charging "that Roosevelt was not instead of a general investigation of the merits, but a check on the offices of Mr. Roosevelt's administration."

Clementine Governor Lehman, speaking at Rochester, called it a "stark republican" proposition. The republicans, however, contend the investigation is all to check state departmental expenditures and to eliminate needless bureaus and workers; the investigation will go on through the summer and fall.

The Farley hearing in the minds of thousands is more than a legal procedure to determine if a county officer is fit to hold office. It is to these thousands a struggle between Tammany and its foes with Roosevelt as the umpire.

Man Kills 3 Children, Then Takes Own Life

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 14.—(AP)—While 50 children were celebrating their six children to death with a poker, critically injured the others and killed himself with a shotgun today.

The children ranged from 4 to 12 years. A possible motive for the slayings was not immediately available.

Two girls and one boy were killed. Two other boys and a girl suffered fractured skulls.

The slayings and suicide occurred at White's home in Wilson Hollow, on the outskirts of Charleston.

John Hanson First Real President Of United States, Says Biographer

BY CHARLES M. McCANN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(UP)—John Hanson, of Maryland, so little known that he preceded into a famous encyclopedia until 1929, was the first real president of the United States, and might dispute Washington's title as Father of the Country, a biographer claimed today.

"John Hanson, our first president," a book by Seymour Wemyss Smith, to be published tomorrow, gives documentary evidence that Hanson, elected November 5, 1789, to be "president of the United States in congress assembled," was looked upon as the first citizen.

A Marylander, Hanson was elected by the congress under the articles of confederation—which preceded the present constitution. That honor was paid him while he was a representative in the Maryland congressional delegation. He was 65 years old then. He died two years later.

George Washington recognized Hanson as his superior officer, the book shows. It was to Hanson, as the pres-

Legion Launches Drive Against Unemployment

Georgia Legionnaires Map Plans To Secure Jobs for 15,000 Men in State; To Ask Employers To Increase Personnel.

BY PERRY W. MULLEN.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 14.—(AP)—The full strength of Georgia's Legionnaires was marshaled today for a new conflict—a fight against unemployment.

Two hundred officers representing 120 posts of the American Legion assembled here at the command of the national body and were given definite and implicit instructions for a campaign expected to place 15,000 men at work in Georgia.

The battle plan was worked out by the national body in an effort to place 1,000,000 men back at work within the next 30 days. Employers will be asked to increase their forces 10 per cent. Those who cannot will be asked to add one man to their pay rolls and if a permanent employee cannot be added they will be urged to add at least one man for a 30-day period.

George Freeman, New York, representing the Legion's national unemployment committee, outlined the combat plans and declared unemployment had brought about a situation comparable to the worst devastation brought by war. He said the Legion had already made its battle plan effective in Rochester, N. Y., furnishing $5,000,000 worth of work.

Quincy Melton, state commander and editor of the Griffin News, described the Legion's fight as a wheel within a wheel and expressed the belief that the momentum of its efforts would bring about rehabilitation of the nation's business.

Employers who say they cannot add to their forces will be requested to shorten eight-hour days to six in order to increase the number of jobs. In this connection, William Simon, state adjutant, declared labor would be called upon to meet employers half-way, accepting a reduced income to spread out employment. He said the Legion had the co-operation of the American Federation of Labor on this proposal.

A house-to-house canvass to secure part-time jobs on repair work is included in the plan. Municipalities will be asked to start work now on projects for which money has been appropriated and to expedite plans for those contemplated in the near future.

Henry L. Stevens, national commander, in a telephone call from New York urged Georgia posts to place emphasis on the proposal to have each employer add one man.

Adjutant Simon asked the officers to adapt the national plan to local conditions. He said the Legion was in the plan were tried in Albany, Ga., last spring in a campaign to speed up business and resulted with the last week in creating more jobs than there were men available.

The adjutant declared Legionnaires would be met with the statement by the business community that the plan would not work. He read a telegram from the Rome post stating it had already begun the campaign and that "it works."

William A. McKenna, secretary-treasurer of the Macon Federation of Labor, represented that body at the meeting and declared his organization was ready to co-operate fully in the Legion's efforts.

Basil Stockbridge, Atlanta, past commander of the Georgia Legion, declared the Legion had a state of mind to the effect that the Legion was an organization to which impossibilities do not exist and that the time de-

GUSS STUDDARD, 42, CRASHING CRASH VICTIM; NEGRO CONVICT BADLY HURT

GUSS STUDDARD, 42, Fulton county roller engineer, was killed instantly and Paris Watts, negro convict, was seriously injured Sunday morning when a roadster in which they were riding was hit by a Southern train at Sawtell crossing, according to county police.

Studdard, who is stationed at South camp, and the convict were on their way to a bridge on Cleveland avenue to take in some lanterns which were placed to protect a new culvert, when their car was struck by the train, according to C. F. Collier, assistant county warden. Collier said that Studdard waited for an Atlanta-bound train to pass, and started across the tracks; only to be hit by a train headed in the other direction.

The negro convict was carried to Grady hospital.

Studdard had been with Fulton county for nearly 15 years, Collier said. He was a widower with one daughter, and made his residence at the camp most of the time. He was a native of Monroe.

In addition to his daughter, Miss Hazel Studdard, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Studdard, of Monroe; five sisters, Mrs. Jeff Whitely, Mrs. Golden Malcolm, Mrs. Beverly Howard, Mrs. Foster Bacus and Miss Lillie Studdard, all of Monroe, and six brothers, C. L. J. W. and Roy Studdard, of Atlanta, and Ed, Cleve and Louis Studdard, of Monroe.

The body will be taken from the residence of his brother, C. L. Studdard, 1349 Grand street, S. E., to Monroe and funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock today at the Baptist church, near Monroe. The Rev. Goss will officiate. Interment will be in Queen cemetery, with H. M. Patterson as casket bearer.

Blagden Kidnapers Fail To Keep Tryst

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 14.—(AP)—The kidnapers of Harry H. Blagden, wealthy sportsman, did not keep a tryst they had named for shortly after noon today at Tupper lake.

The family of the man, held since Thursday night, believed the publicity given the case had frightened the kidnapers. Tonight his relatives were told that the man had been released.

They said they were ready to pay the $1,000 demanded at any time and place appointed.

Stokes McCall, not here, but Captain Charles J. Broadfield, of B. troop, at Malone, whose men are working on the case, said there had been no developments today.

Fifteen Hindus Slain In Attack by Moslems

SRINAGAR, India, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Fifteen Hindus and three Moslems were killed and 75 houses were pillaged and burned in communal disturbances at Mirpur today.

At Mirpur five Moslems were killed when a Moslem mob attacked a police party escorting Hindu refugees in the city to safety.

The bed of the Whelan river was the scene of a fierce Moslem attack in another communal disturbance.

FIGHT TO DEATH URGED FOR CHINA BY NATIONALISTS

Powerful Kuomintang Exhorts Chinese Never To Yield to Japanese on Any Point in Dispute.

HONAN FU (Temporary Capital of China, Feb. 15.—(Monday)—(AP) The Kuomintang, nationalist party of China, today urged that "no grounds be yielded to the Japanese."

The central executive committee of the party sent an urgent telegram to the executive Yuan and the military council declaring that the Japanese proposal to demilitarize the "principal ports" of China, was made with a view to subjugating the nation.

The proposal, the telegram said, was absolutely unacceptable.

Messages from Swatow, via Canton, said the arrival of Japanese warships off Swatow had created much nervousness among the population, leading to enforcement of martial law and closing of the city gates between 8 p. m. and 11 a. m.

Chinese dispatches said that Wang Ching-wei, the youthful president of the nationalists, government executive department, had just arrived from Honan Fu. There in a message addressed to the nation and the world he said, "Our armies may be defeated, but the nation will not be conquered."

Pointing out that China's military and economic advancement had lagged during the last decade Wang declared that "nevertheless Japanese military aggression will be resisted by a determined nation."

He said, "but every man, everywhere, will resist. Japan may send millions of troops but shall find it impossible to conquer China. Our position in international relations is supported by strong arguments and facts. We won't make concessions. Until Japan gives up the idea of forcing China by armed aggression to surrender our territorial and administrative sovereignty, there shall and there cannot be direct Sino-Japanese negotiations."

He said other powers were appalled by the Japanese aggression and that Japan knew the powers were unable to interfere because of their economic depression and other domestic troubles.

WET REPUBLICANS WITHHELD FUNDS

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—(AP) Raymond Pitcairn, spokesman for an organization of republicans who oppose prohibition, telegraphed Senator Simon D. Fess today that "substantial contributors" to republican campaign funds of the past will contribute to the democratic party this year unless the republicans declare for repeal.

He urged Fess, chairman of the republican national committee, to "look into this."

The telegram signed by Pitcairn, a Philadelphia attorney, read in part: "I have been informed that Arthur Curtiss James, said to have contributed $50,000 to President Coolidge's campaign fund, is giving his campaign contribution to the democratic party because of our party's stand on prohibition. May I suggest you look into this?"

"I can furnish you with a list of other substantial contributors whose gifts will be to the democrats for the cause of the repeal of prohibition," he said.

Pitcairn did not explain on what ground James reportedly believed he would further the anti-prohibition cause by contributing to the democrats rather than to the republicans.

He declined to reveal the source of his information regarding James' intentions or to name the others who he said would do likewise.

Prohibition Front Disintegrating, Says Wet Leader in Annual Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—House of representatives definitely favoring submission of a repeal resolution to the people in state conventions increased from 180 in 1930 to 190 in 1931.

"The number of senators favoring a submission resolution increased from 18 in 1930 to 24 in 1931."

"Party leaders in congress announced that record roll calls on submission of a repeal resolution to the states would be taken in the senate and the house."

"Branch organizations" were set up in eight additional states, bringing the total to 24 in 1931.

"The number of members of the prohibition front disintegrating, according to the report, continued: 'The drys were victorious in their claims that Volsteadism saved billions annually and was the father of prosperity. Today they have perforce abandoned this prosperity myth.'"

Curran listed the "important developments of the year" as follows: "The number of members of the

Neutral Officials Fail in Efforts To Effect Truce

LEAGUE INFORMED 'OPEN WAR EXISTS' IN SHANGHAI AREA

HONGKONG, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Two Japanese destroyers returned to Swatow today, making a total of three in the harbor there, and three Chinese destroyers, passed the mayor of Swatow told the Japanese consul that a recent agreement as to Japanese naval strength at Swatow had been violated.

The mayor said the presence of gunboats alarmed the populace and created unnecessary tension.

MAJOR AT SWATOW PROTESTS TO JAPS

HONGKONG, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Two Japanese destroyers returned to Swatow today, making a total of three in the harbor there, and three Chinese destroyers, passed the mayor of Swatow told the Japanese consul that a recent agreement as to Japanese naval strength at Swatow had been violated.

The mayor said the presence of gunboats alarmed the populace and created unnecessary tension.

Day's Developments In Sino-Jap Conflict

By the Associated Press.

Japanese forces at Shanghai grew to great numbers today as every development on the battle front pointed toward an imminent major engagement involving perhaps 50,000 troops and the instruments of big-scale military operations.

The League of Nations was told by its Shanghai commission that a state of war already existed there, and that the Japanese had violated Article XV of the covenant, which prohibited the use of force against a member state.

Failure of China to obtain redress under Article XV, she would have no other recourse except to call Article XV into operation, moving and military sanctions, the former equivalent to an international boycott against an aggressor nation.

Japan's refusal to accept the findings of the Shanghai commission, sent to investigate conditions there, a reign of terror resulted in the meeting place.

Raymond Pitcairn, spokesman for an organization of republicans who oppose prohibition, telegraphed Senator Simon D. Fess today that "substantial contributors" to republican campaign funds of the past will contribute to the democratic party this year unless the republicans declare for repeal.

He urged Fess, chairman of the republican national committee, to "look into this."

The telegram signed by Pitcairn, a Philadelphia attorney, read in part: "I have been informed that Arthur Curtiss James, said to have contributed $50,000 to President Coolidge's campaign fund, is giving his campaign contribution to the democratic party because of our party's stand on prohibition. May I suggest you look into this?"

"I can furnish you with a list of other substantial contributors whose gifts will be to the democrats for the cause of the repeal of prohibition," he said.

Pitcairn did not explain on what ground James reportedly believed he would further the anti-prohibition cause by contributing to the democrats rather than to the republicans.

He declined to reveal the source of his information regarding James' intentions or to name the others who he said would do likewise.

The Weather

Georgia: Rain Monday and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

North Carolina: South Carolina: Rain Monday and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Florida: Fairly cloudy, followed by rain in northwest portion Monday; Tuesday cloudy with rain in north portion.

Tennessee: Rain Monday and Tuesday; rising temperature Tuesday.

Louisiana: Cloudy, local rains Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy to cloudy.

Mississippi: Alabama: Extreme Northwest Florida: Cloudy, local rains Monday and Tuesday; Tuesday warmer north portion Tuesday.

Arkansas: Cloudy, occasional rains Monday and probably Tuesday, warmer Tuesday.

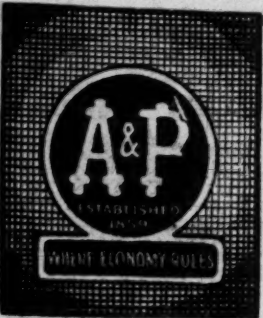

Oklahoma: Cloudy, local rains, warmer west portion Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy to cloudy.

West Texas: Cloudy, local rains, warmer north portion Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy, colder in north and west portions.

FOUNDER'S WEEK SALE

Commemorating the principles on which A&P was founded

"The Proprietors became fully convinced several years ago," says an advertisement published in Harper's Weekly in 1867 by the founder of A&P, "that the consumers of Tea and Coffee were paying too many and too large profits on these articles of everyday consumption, and therefore organized this Company to do away, as far as possible, with these enormous drains upon the consumers, and to supply them with these necessities at the smallest possible price. . . . We propose to do away with all these various profits . . . with the exception of a small profit to ourselves—which, on our large sales, will amply pay us."

The founder's method of direct buying and small profits to ourselves applies today, not only to tea, but to every one of the 1200 items we sell. Our policy was, is, and always will be, the elimination of unnecessary profits taken on food between the garden and the grocery shelf.

The Prices Listed Below Emphasize the Result of This Policy.

SUGAR	Dixie Crystal	5 LB.	23c
	or Domino	BAG	23c
		10 LBS.	45c
		25 LBS.	$1.13
FRESH EGGS	Large Selected	DOZ.	15c
DIXIE PRINT BUTTER		LB.	22c
FLOUR	Gold Medal or Pillsbury's	•LB.	73c
PURE LARD	In Cartons	2 LBS.	13c
JEWEL	Shortening In Cartons	2 LBS.	13c
		4-LB. PAIL	29c
		8-LB. PAIL	55c

Vegetables & Fruit

Prices Effective Monday and Tuesday.

TURNIPS	EXTRA LARGE BUNCH	5c
POTATOES	NO. 1 COBBLERS	5 LBS. 9c
TURNIP SALAD	POUND	5c
YELLOW ONIONS	POUND	5c

At A&P Meat Markets

STEAK	LOIN OR ROUND	LB.	30^c
PORK SHOULDER STEAK		LB.	15^c
BEEF LIVER	POUND		15^c
MEAT LOAF	PORK ADDED	LB.	15^c
SPARE RIBS	FRESH	LB.	12^c

CHERRIES	Quaker Maid Sour, Red Pitted	NO. 2 CAN	15^c
WET SHRIMP		CAN	15^c
DEL MONTE	Pears Peaches or Pineapple	2 BUFFET CANS	15^c
OKRA & TOMATOES		NO. 2 CAN	10^c
CLICQUOT CLUB	SEC. GINGER- ALE	2 BOT.	25^c
CLICQUOT CLUB	Pale or Golden	2 BOT.	27^c
SOUP	Campbell's All Varieties Except Tomato	3 CANS	25^c
CAMPBELL'S TOMATO SOUP		3 CANS	20^c

A&P FOOD STORES ATLANTA GEORGIA

Warm-Hearted Young Bandit Pair Return Watch, $5 to Pastor-Victim

Two young armed bandits, not entirely devoid of the milk of human kindness and apparently endowed with a certain amount of respect for the cloth, were encountered early Sunday night on Stewart avenue by the Rev. O. E. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, of Culloden, he reported to police. The robbers left him, $5 poorer, but not entirely "broke," the clergyman asserted.

Mr. Smith was driving toward Atlanta on Stewart avenue, he told police, and at the intersection of Dill avenue he was forced to stop for a traffic light. As his car drew up at the corner, he said, two young well-dressed men opened the doors and got in with him, one in the front seat and the other in the back.

Holding a pistol on the Methodist minister, the bandit in the front seat ordered the pastor to drive on down Stewart avenue and then took Mr. Smith's money and watch.

But the timeliness was a gift from the pastor's congregation and he hated to lose it. He told the bandits he would like to keep it and showed how it was insured. So they returned it.

"Did you boys know you were robbing a Methodist minister?" Mr. Smith then asked.

The bandits consulted one with the other and then returned a $5 bill which they had just taken from him.

"Here's part of your ministerial salary," they said.

Emory Orchestra in 37th Concert; Pianist Hugh Hodgson Guest Artist

The Emory University orchestra presented its thirty-seventh Sunday afternoon concert in its tenth season Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the Glenn Memorial church.

Hugh Hodgson, concert pianist, as guest artist.

Dr. Malcolm Dewey, director of the orchestra, deserves much credit for the splendid work and remarkable attainments he has achieved with this young group of students, laying the foundation and developing material for future symphonic work, as well as providing immediate noteworthy orchestral concerts, a source of culture and pleasure for the students on the Emory campus and Atlanta music lovers.

The first number on the program was the classic symphony, "The Messiah," by Handel, and this was followed by the overture to Rossini's "Semiramide."

Hugh Hodgson played the first movement, "Andante Sostenuto," of Saint-Saens' Concerto in G minor for piano and orchestra, performing with the artistry and technical ability which always combine to make Mr. Hodgson's appearances outstanding. A brilliant climax to the movement was executed with ease. The orchestra provided adequate and supporting accompaniment throughout the work.

An orchestral selection, "Ave Gunt Suite," preceded Mr. Hodgson's group of piano solos. Playing first Rubinstein's "Barcarole," Mr. Hodgson admirably revealed the poetic side of his playing, while Olsen's "Papillon" was rendered with all the cleanliness, fleetness and delicacy that his remarkable digital technique commands.

Chopin's "Polonaise in C Sharp Minor" combined dramatic power with a touch of pathos, and the group closed with Debussy's "Reflets dans l'Eau," played as only Mr. Hodgson, in his symphonic feat for beauty in tone colors, could play it. Continued applause brought as encore one of his own compositions, "Minute." The orchestra brought the program to a close with an admirable performance of the charming "Valse des Cracker Suite."

—MOZELLE HORTON.

MURRAY BACKERS SEEK TRACE OF GEORGIA CLUB

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 14. (AP)—Supporters of Governor W. H. (Alfalfa) Bill Murray for the democratic nomination for president turned their attention toward Georgia tonight as Ed Semans, a friend of the governor, left for Atlanta to confer with democratic leaders there.

Ira Finley, head of Murray's speakers' bureau, said Semans would "make a survey" in Georgia to determine whether sentiment warranted the filing of Murray's name in the presidential primary.

Finley said local Murray-for-president clubs had been formed in Georgia "on their own hook," but he did not know where they were or who organized them. He said, so far as he knew, there was no state headquarters.

He said Semans planned to get in touch with the reported Georgia clubs and learn the extent of their activity.

A statement yesterday at Murray headquarters said telephone advice from Georgia advised that about 13,000 names were ready to enter Governor Murray in the preferential primary in that state, where 5,000 names are necessary.

However, Finley today said he had "never heard" of any such petition.

JURY TO RESUME ITS DELIBERATIONS IN A. D. POOLE CASE

Continued from First Page.

ers Jr., who was driving the car in which Miss Patterson was riding when she was fatally injured. Joe Reppard Pafford, also of Lakeland, was killed in the accident and Poole and Gaines are under indictment for murder in connection with his death. They also are indicted on charges of assault with intent to murder and on charges of carrying concealed weapons and of being drunk on a public highway.

The Poole jury is being quartered at the home of Mrs. M. J. May, Atlanta, under guard of the bailiff. It was taken to church service and later in the day went for a long walk.

Poole and Gaines spent a quiet day in the Lowndes county jail at Valdosta, where they have been held since their arrest. They were taken to the accident near Cecil on January 10. Poole was permitted to receive a number of visitors, including his father, Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole, of Atlanta, who has been attending the trial which started last Tuesday.

Chief Poole and William Schley Howard and W. Paul Carpenter, Atlanta lawyers, who have been associated with the firm of Wilcox, Connell & Wilcox in the defense of Poole, left for home today. Howard is scheduled to defend Mrs. Rommie Carran on charges of murder growing out of the death of her husband when he was killed in the accident.

The case is called for trial in Fulton superior court Tuesday. Chief Poole had obtained a six-day leave of absence from the police department and was forced to return to Atlanta because his leave had expired.

Adel today still is talking about the crowds which came from far and near to attend the sessions of the trial here, which occupied the entire calendar of Judge William R. Smith's docket for the term. At every session every seat and every available inch of floor space was taken and there were hundreds who crowded the corridors and the sections around the courthouse in a vain effort to gain admittance.

Today, most of those who came from out-of-town to attend the trial, have gone home but many are remaining in a hope that the jury will reach some kind of a verdict tomorrow.

In its instructions to the jury, the court provided several verdicts which include: One of murder without a recommendation, carrying the death penalty; one of murder with a recommendation for mercy, carrying with it a life sentence; one of involuntary manslaughter in the commission of an unlawful act, carrying with it a term of from one to three years on the chain gang; one of involuntary manslaughter in the commission of a lawful act, carrying a sentence of up to 12 months on the chain gang or a fine up to $1,000 or both; one of acquittal.

Season your MACARONI with

LEA & PERRINS SAUCE

and taste the difference

Season your MACARONI with

LEA & PERRINS SAUCE

and taste the difference

Season your MACARONI with

LEA & PERRINS SAUCE

and taste the difference

Japanese and Additional Men

Wholesale Engagement Believed Inevitable as Peace Attempts Fail.

Continued from First Page.

region, where tanks might be handicapped, were brought ashore. American ministerial officials today said they would call Washington's attention to the landing of thousands of Japanese troops in the International Settlement. London, Paris, Rome and other capitals will also be informed by their representatives of the landing.

It was said that the Japanese gave the British consul general, J. F. Brennan, a definite promise last week that further Japanese troops if brought ashore, would not disembark in the International Settlement. At that time the Japanese consul general, Kuramatsu Mural, said no landing of troops in the Settlement was contemplated.

The Shanghai municipal council will protest the landing on the ground that the settlement had been created and maintained for defensive purposes, and never for offensive purposes against China or any other power.

The latest word from the Japanese is that they are to make the Shanghai-Chapei-Wosung battlefield was contradictory. Early Sunday Lieutenant General Kenkichi Ueda, commander of all the Chinese land forces, denied that a big Japanese offensive was at hand and explained that the sole object in coming to Shanghai of large troops was to make the place safe. He added that he still hoped for peaceful settlement involving voluntary withdrawal of the Chinese to a safe distance.

Late last night Rear Admiral S. Shimada, commanding the naval forces of the Japanese, used his double-edged sword to emphasize his views. He saw correspondents aboard the flagship and said that in view of the Chinese attitude it probably would be necessary to "strike them out."

Thirty miles. The admiral intimated that if the Chinese troops did not voluntarily withdraw the Japanese would drive them back perhaps 30 miles from the boundaries of the international lines. A narrower zone, he pointed out, would make possible surprise forays against the Chinese, thus endangering the safety of Japanese in Shanghai.

With the arrival of a detachment of French reinforcements, expected tomorrow, the foreign and military naval forces in the International Settlement, exclusive of the Japanese, will be brought to 12,000 men. The British with 8,400 men continued to maintain the largest force.

The American forces include 3,100, the French have 8,000 and the Italian 300. The rest of the force is made up of the Shanghai volunteers corps.

PRESENTATION OF ULTIMATUM EXPECTED TO PRECEDE FIGHT

TOKYO, Feb. 15.—(Monday).—(AP) Lieutenant General Kenkichi Ueda, commander of the Japanese land forces in Shanghai, was expected to present an ultimatum to the Chinese shortly demanding withdrawal and, if he were refused, to launch an early renewal of the Japanese offensive.

Code clerks and officials of the state, navy and war departments were on duty in full force watching results of the probable fight to a finish, but more closely concerned with effects of the battle on Americans in the International Settlement.

No hope of truce was indicated in official messages. Spasmodic shelling continued, and terror was reported to be spreading in the International Settlement.

Edwin J. Cunningham, consul general at Shanghai, advised the state department that no reply has been received to a protest he made to the Japanese plenipotentiaries upon arrival of the Japanese plenipotentiaries, and Mrs. J. Young, an American citizen of Chinese parentage.

Ringwalt, who comes from Omaha, accompanied the woman into the Hongkong area to rescue her child. In spite of the fact that Ringwalt displayed his American consular credentials, he was roughly handled. Neither was seriously hurt and Mrs. Young later recovered her child.

Negotiations which are going on directly between General Dast Ding-kai, commanding the Chinese forces, and Lieutenant General Kenkichi Ueda, of the Japanese, have apparently reached an impasse. The Japanese insist upon the withdrawal of the Chinese 20 miles beyond the Chapei area. General Dast Ding-kai says the Chinese are willing to die rather than retreat, while the Japanese retain the positions they now hold.

Negro Arrested. Prompt and cool work by two special officers resulted in the arrest of a young negro from a crowd of men in the Fulton Bag Cotton Mill district, according to police reports.

W. L. Shields and John W. Products Co., Studio B-840, 1023 N. Sycamore Ave., Hollywood, California. Every one is invited to submit a name and in case of ties duplicate prizes will be given. Officials of the firm say that any name may win the seven hundred and fifty dollars, even if submitted on a postcard or scrap of paper; so send your suggestion at once.—(adv.)

$500 Reward Offered for a Name

The distributors of one of the fastest selling lines of cosmetics in Hollywood are going to introduce a new Bath Soap which they claim is unequalled for its soothing and cleansing effects. Before spending thousands of dollars in advertising it, they want to be sure the new Bath Soap has the best possible name, and are therefore offering a five hundred dollar reward to the person who suggests the name they choose as most suitable. Readers of this announcement are urged to send in their suggestions for a name at once, because two hundred and fifty dollars extra will be given the winner if name is mailed and postmarked before February 21, 1932. Each contestant must send only one name; otherwise he will be disqualified, and the name must be mailed to Hollywood Marvel Products Co., Studio B-840, 1023 N. Sycamore Ave., Hollywood, California. Every one is invited to submit a name and in case of ties duplicate prizes will be given. Officials of the firm say that any name may win the seven hundred and fifty dollars, even if submitted on a postcard or scrap of paper; so send your suggestion at once.—(adv.)

Boy, 15, Held for 100 Burglaries, Says He Aided Poor Chums, Mother

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 14.—(AP)—An epilog of crime that charged more than 100 burglaries in the last three months to an eighth grade schoolboy was written in the police dockets here tonight.

The boy, whose name was withheld because he was only 15, was quoted by authorities as having admitted he was the pocketbook thief who prowled through the Clinton Hills and West-quah sections of the city.

An unusual twist was lent to his statement by his assertion that he spent part of the money to buy clothes for poor playmates, and some of it to his widowed mother, and spent the rest on himself.

He took only the money and keys from stolen pocketbooks, police quoted him as saying, throwing away any jewelry they might contain.

This phase of his recital was substantiated by the recovery of several pieces of jewelry in pocketbooks discarded in a vacant lot.

Retention of a two-karat diamond ring because he discovered it would "cut glass," however, was said by police to have resulted in his arrest on a suspicion charge.

The keys he used to enter the places again at a later date.

The boy's narrative of housebreaking, as given out by authorities, included two narrow escapes. On one occasion he was groping through an apartment when the telephone rang, summoning the woman occupant. As she picked up the receiver she noticed the boy and fled.

The youth replaced the receiver on the hook, police said he told them.

On another occasion he was surprised in an apartment and forced to jump from a first-story window.

DETECTIVES ARREST MOVIE OPERATORS

Continued from First Page.

made Sunday, "have not been tried," Chief Beavers pointed out.

Atlanta church circles were alive with talk of Sunday movies at the services Sunday morning and threats were heard that boycotts would be placed against the show houses participating.

When officers served the managers with the charges, they also gave summaries to motion picture machine operators and the cashiers of the houses to appear as witnesses against their employers.

Managers who were given a copy of charges and the theaters they supervise were: Roy G. Youngblood, Fox; E. E. Whitaker, Keith's Georgia; L. Weid, Capitol; G. T. Wilkins, Cameo; H. T. Kimmel, Rialto; L. M. White, Grand; T. L. Anderson, Tenth Street; E. W. Hatcock, Palace; G. T. Bailey, a negro show house; G. W. Gaston, Madison; I. S. Hatch, Alpha; John Thompson, West End; and A. H. Duran, Empire.

In the latter case the manager was first given to Alpha Fowler, the owner of the Empire, and later transferred to the manager.

Harrell Predicts Acquittal. Love B. Harrell, secretary of the Atlanta Theater Managers' Association, expressed belief that the managers will be acquitted in police court, since in a similar case Mrs. Margeson was exonerated. Harrell pointed out that Recorder Callaway had held that Sunday movies were not illegal when expenses were paid and the net profits went to charity. Albany's Sunday movies are still running under the same kind of a court decision, he pointed out.

"I firmly expect that the cases will be dismissed without trial, since the matter has been thoroughly adjudicated," Harrell said.

15,000 Attend Theater. Harrell said that although the proceeds will not be tallied until this morning, estimates placed the benefits for charity at a high figure from Sunday's operation of the houses. Between 15,000 and 20,000 persons attended the shows in spite of the inclement weather, and the outpouring of citizens aided the Sunday business of the drug stores, parking lots and similar enterprises as well as the charity benefit, he said.

The town appeared lively for once on Sunday, and many favorable comments were heard. Harrell said, "The shows certainly brought the people out. All of the movie houses were packed."

Answering queries as to whether or not he filed complaint against the operation of moving pictures on Sunday, Dr. W. H. Faust, pastor of Gordon Street Baptist church, said he did not. He had preferred charges against Mrs. M. H. Margeson several weeks ago for operating the Paramount on Sunday.

The executive committee of the Atlanta Christian Church will meet at 8 o'clock, and Dr. D. P. McGee, president, said the matter of action against the moving picture operators would be discussed if any member brought it up.

Dr. R. L. Russell, president of the Atlanta Evangelical Ministers' Association, said that he would not call a special meeting of the body to consider action but that it probably would come up for discussion at the regular meeting next Monday.

PGGLY WIGGLY

PRICES EFFECTIVE MONDAY AND TUESDAY

LENTEN SUGGESTIONS!

SALAD DRESSING PINT 15c

Vienna Sausage Libby's, Ea. 10c Kipped Snacks CAN 9c

Vogt's Franks SEALED 23c HERRING KING OSCAR 15c

VEAL LOAF LIBBY'S, Ea. 17c PIE CHERRIES NO. 2 15c

SARDINES ABER, OIL, Ea. 5c SOUPS ALL KINDS 2 CANS 19c

OYSTERS 8-OZ. 3 FOR 25c SALMON TINK CAN 10c

CHEESE WISC. DAIRY LB. 19c MACARONI NOODLES-COOK'S 5c

PINEAPPLE NO. 21 CAN 15c

PEACHES NO. 24 CAN 15c

CRANBERRY SAUCE 7-OZ. CAN 5c

Corned BEEF NO. 1 CAN 19c

SARDINES UNDERWOOD'S RED, YELLOW OR WHITE LABEL 3 CANS 25c

TUNA FLAKES 1-LB. CAN EL CAMPO EA. 15c

Corn, Tomatoes or Beans NO. 2 STD. EA. 7 1/2c

ORANGES JUICY AND SWEET, DOZ. 10c

POTATOES MAINE MOUNTAINS 5 LBS. 9c

SPINACH CRISP AND GREEN 3 LBS. 20c

TANGERINES EXTRA NICE DOZ. 10c

YAMS KILN DRIED 5 LBS. 15c

WE ALWAYS HANDLE QUALITY MEATS

HAM SLICED CENTER CUTS LB. 25c

COLD SLICED BOILED HAM LB. 29c STEAK LB. 19c

SALT MACKEREL 10c SLICED SHOULDER PORK STEAK LB. 15c

FRESH LEAN PORK CHOPS 12c SLICED BEEF LIVER LB. 15c

WIDE INTEREST SHOWN IN NEW CIVIC LEAGUE

Leaders of Taxpayers' Body Predict Membership of More Than 5,000.

Widespread interest that greeted the announcement in Sunday's papers of plans for the organization of the Taxpayers' League of Atlanta and Fulton county prompted leaders Sunday night to predict a membership of more than 5,000 voters within a comparatively short time.

This prediction was made following receipt of reports from nearly every ward in the city which brought pledges of support for the league from voters in all walks of life.

Along with the announcement of the interest in the league came a statement from H. Y. McCord, chairman of the organization committee, in which he emphasized the fact that membership is open to every man and woman in Atlanta and Fulton county who can now vote or who can qualify to vote, and in which voters were urged to call their representatives at the league headquarters at 52 Broad street Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. McCord also emphasized the non-partisanship of the league; impressed the fact that the sole purpose of the league is to arouse individuals to their responsibilities as citizens and to bring the forward-thinking men and women of Fulton county together in concerted action for good government.

Attention also was called to the fact that the league is to be a self-governing body and that as soon as there has been ample time for the enrollment of a substantial and representative membership, the league members will elect their own permanent officers.

The league headquarters will open at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at 52 Broad street, N. W., with G. M. Stout in charge of the secretary. The membership fee is $1, payable at any time during the current year.

ANTI-HOARDING DRIVE REVIVING DEAD DOLLARS

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—(P)—Dead dollars are responding already to the government's war on hoarding, calling them from their hiding places in socks.

Thousands of letters, radiating confidence and promising support, pour daily into the office of Frank Knox, chairman of President Hoover's anti-hoarding committee and publisher of the Chicago Daily News.

Yet the plan of battle is only three days old.

Another point, which Mr. Knox considers almost as important, is that many letters are written by hand on blue-ruled tablet paper, suggesting origins in humble homes.

It is to them, Knox said, the idea of putting hoarded cash back into circulation has special appeal. These penciled notes encourage the committee more than bond stationery and imposing letterheads. Mr. Knox says they indicated that the people of the country have been stiffened with optimism from the smallest consumers up.

The committee was given an idea of the enormity of its task when a federal bank examiner reported the condition of a bank in a small western city. Water mains burst, flooding the vaults. They held $500,000 in cash deposits, but an additional $347,000 were found soaked in safe deposit boxes.

The campaign against hidden cash has taken many different lines of attack.

SHORT DEBATE SUBJECT FOR DEBATE ON RADIO

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(P)—Daily publication of complete records of all short sales of each stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange and the abolition of what he called "false" short sales were advocated by George Brokaw Compton, former New York inheritance tax appraiser, in a radio debate today with Ernest B. Cobb, member of the state board of certified public accountants.

Compton defined "false" short selling as selling short for immediate delivery. Short selling for delayed delivery he called "true" short selling and asserted he would emphasize the distinction at congressional hearings in Washington next week.

Cobb, defending short selling as beneficial to the investing public, asserted it exercised a stabilizing influence on the market, checking advances and retarding declines. The debate was over station WOR.

STOP USING SODA!
BAD FOR STOMACH

Much soda disturbs digestion. For your stomach and gas, Adierika is far better. One dose will rid you of bowel poisons which cause gas and bad sleep. Leading druggists.—(adv.)

Is Your Rest Disturbed?

Deal Promptly with Bladder Irregularities

Head promptly bladder irregularities, burning, scanty and too frequent passage and getting up at night. They may warn of some disordered kidney or bladder condition. Why not give Doan's Pills a trial? No other advertised diuretic is so widely used. None so well recommended. Clip this advertisement and mail it to Foster-Milburn Co., 1282 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y. A trial box will be sent you.

Doan's Pills

A DIURETIC FOR THE KIDNEYS

NATIONAL LEADER IS ARRESTED IN INDIA

LAHORE, India, Feb. 14.—(P)—Sardar Sardul Singh, president of the all-India national congress, was arrested at Shahdara station today while en route to Peshawar and brought back to Lahore. In the government's anti-nationalist campaign, the Bengal Moslem leader, Maulana Kalam Azad, was nominated president to succeed him.

3-Weeks' Rest Ordered For Ramsay MacDonald

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(P)—A three-week complete rest was ordered today for Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald so he can recover from a recent operation on his left eye.

An official statement said: "A thorough examination of the prime minister's left eye was made today when it was found that the result of an operation on the left eye was very satisfactory."

"In order to maintain this good result, however, it is essential for him to have at least three weeks' complete rest. It has been urged upon the prime minister that his sight requires greater care in the future than it has been receiving."

The premier, who was operated on for glaucoma, a diminution of the vision, was expected to leave the nursing home by the middle of this week.

MANY SEEKING POSTS OF STRIKING PILOTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—(P)—While the 23 former pilots of the Century Air Lines continued their passive resistance strike, officials of the company today announced the required quota of fliers was nearly filled and they expected to resume normal operations soon.

The former pilots, members of a recently formed union, say they were locked out Tuesday morning when they reported for work after having refused to take a 40 per cent wage reduction.

The company has maintained service on the Chicago-St. Louis leg of its lines on a reduced schedule. Yesterday partial service was resumed from Chicago to Detroit. So far the Chicago-Cleveland leg has been idle.

Officials today said they had far more applicants for the vacant positions than they could use. A special force of department of commerce inspectors has been busy at the municipal airport the past few days examining applicants while the company pilots were acquainting themselves with the rules of the airport.

Doctors To Buy Blanks For Liquor Prescription

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Governmental economy today singled out liquor prescription blanks for a new effort to reduce expenses.

Heretofore physicians have been supplied with the forms without charge. Henceforth they will have to buy their own. The will continue to be limited, however, and the physicians must make full reports of prescriptions issued.

Director Dorian, of the bureau of industrial alcohol, announced the new policy.

VOLLMAN AND COY.
ADJUDGED SUICIDES

Suicide verdicts were returned Sunday by coroner's jury which investigated the deaths of Wilmer Vollman, of New York, and David G. Coy, of 256 Meil avenue.

Vollman, a traveling salesman for a surgical supply house, was found dead in a downtown hotel room with a bullet wound near the heart on Sunday.

Coy, a campaign manager for the Salvation Army in North Carolina, was killed by a pistol bullet fired into a rooming house at his home on Sunday afternoon. Funeral services for Coy will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning from the chapel of Sam Greenwald and cremation will be in West View cemetery.

There will not be an inquest into the death of Mrs. M. C. Stoner, of West Lake avenue, who was killed by a fall into a deep well, it was said. Blanchard Brothers are in charge of funeral arrangements.

A coroner's jury decided that the death of Homer Wright, who was found dead in bed at 261 Peters street Saturday afternoon, was due to apoplexy. Wright's body was shipped to Douglasville Sunday by J. Austin Dillon.

FRED WARNER PASSES AT HOME IN FLORIDA

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 14.—(P)—Fred Warner, 68, retired auto mechanic, died at his home on Dunedin Isles, near here, today following a short illness.

Mr. Warner was for several years a member of the area of General Motors Corporation and at one time was president of the Oakland division.

For the last few years, however, he had devoted most of his time to his real estate interest here. Before his retirement he lived at Pontiac and Detroit, Mich.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bertha Safer Warner, and two sons, Fred W. Jr., of Tampa, and Daniels Warner, of Greensboro, N. C.

Burial will be at Beloit, Wis., his birthplace.

SIR ARTHUR DUCKHAM, ASSISTED SURETY

Feb. 14.—(P)—Sir Arthur Duckham, president-elect of the Federal British Industries and a prominent industrialist, engineer and expert on the coal industry, died suddenly today. He was 52 years old.

He visited America for a month in the latter part of last year, going to New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago. On his return he predicted that the United States would have to adopt the dole system for the relief of unemployed.

GUARDS TO PRESENT MEETING OF MINERS

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Feb. 14.—(P)—Kentucky national guardsmen and a force of special policemen, all fully armed, will prevent striking miners from leaving the town tomorrow for a scheduled National Miners' Union demonstration.

Fearing an outbreak in connection with a planned mass protest against the killing last week of Harry Simms, alias Symes, a union organizer, state troops were requested today by County Judge Frank Baker after the town was flooded with inflammatory union circulars.

Governor Laffoon at Frankfort ordered 30 members of the Harlan national guard unit to Barbourville. These troops, under the command of Captain Doc L. Nolan, were on their way here today by bus.

Atlanta Radio Programs

Analay Hotel	WGST	890 Kc.	Biltmore Hotel	WSB	740 Kc.
WGST			WSB

7:00 A. M.—Salem Musical Club.	6:40 A. M.—"Another Day."
7:30—Morning Devotions, CBS.	7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Old Dutch Girl, CBS.	7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Little Jack Little, CBS.	7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Gypsy Music Makers, CBS.	8:00—Gene and Glenn, NBC.
8:30—Tony's Scrap Book, CBS.	8:15—Phil Cook, NBC.
8:45—Studio presentation.	8:30—Morning worship period.
9:00—Chatting With Ida Baller Allen, CBS.	8:45—Miracles of Magnolia, NBC.
9:15—Sweet and Hot, CBS.	9:00—Magnolia Entertainers.
9:30—The Madison Square, CBS.	9:15—Clarice, Lu and Eno, NBC.
9:45—Parade Teachers' program.	9:30—Colonel Goodbody, NBC.
10:00—News.	9:45—News and market.
10:15—Musical Alphabet, CBS.	10:00—Roland School of Cookery.
10:30—Melody Parade, CBS.	10:15—Dance Melodies.
10:45—Ben Alley, tenor, CBS.	10:30—Radio Show.
11:00—Charles Bonaparte and his orchestra, CBS.	10:45—Dance Melodies.
11:30—Keweenaw program, CBS.	10:55—E. J. Shuster, NBC.
11:45—Columbia Revue, CBS.	11:15—Dolly Radio Guide.
12:00—Cluck Wilson and his rubber band.	11:30—Marcus Barlett.
12:15 P. M.—George Hall and his Hotel Taft orchestra, CBS.	11:45—Dolly Radio Guide.
12:30—Sanitary Dry Cleaners.	12:00 P. M.—State College of Agriculture.
12:45—Armand Vecsey's Ritz orchestra, CBS.	1:45—Smackouts, NBC.
1:00—Ans Leaf at the organ, CBS.	2:00—Georgia Rhythm Makers.
1:30—American Song of the Air, "Archimedes," CBS.	2:15—Markets.
2:00—Four Eton Boys, CBS.	3:00—Pop concert, NBC.
2:15—Columbia Studio orchestra, CBS.	3:15—Hearst Music Masters, NBC.
2:30—Sam Frazer, pianist, CBS.	3:45—Francis Collins, Mrs. S. R. Junior.
2:45—Redcliffe Girls Club from Boston, CBS.	4:00—Dancing Shadows.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.	4:30—Sunset Club.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.	4:45—Dr. Ben J. Polier.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.	5:00—The Royal Vagabonds, NBC.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.	5:30—Narry Hunsnutt.
4:00—Robert "Buddy" Wagner's Station Club orchestra, CBS.	6:00—Dinner concert.
4:15—Community Merchants' program.	6:15—Federation of Music Clubs.
4:30—Vaughn De Leath, CBS.	6:45—The Stebbins Boys, NBC.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.	7:00—The Contented program, NBC.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.	7:30—Lawrence.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.	8:00—Walker's Austen Castillans.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.	8:30—Mr. Bones.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.	8:45—Literary Digest Prohibition Po.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.	9:00—Mr. Bones and Company, NBC.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.	9:15—Literary Digest Prohibition Po.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.	9:30—Mr. Bones and Company, NBC.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.	10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.	10:15—Prince Albert Quarter Hour.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.	11:00—Georgia Tech Ramblers.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.	11:30—Land of Dreams.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
5:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
6:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
7:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
8:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
9:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
10:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
11:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
12:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
1:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
2:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:15—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:30—Hearst Morning Exercises.
3:45—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4:00—Hearst Morning Exercises.
4

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager
Clark Howell Jr., Business ManagerNoted at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone WA 4568.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily and 1 wk. 1 mo. 3 mos. 6 mos. 1 yr.
Daily only $2.50 $5.00 $10.00 $15.00
Single Copies 5c 10c 20c 30c 40c
By Mail Only
Sunday $1.00 $2.00 $4.00 $6.00
R. F. D. and small or non-deliver towns
Daily (without Sunday) 1 yr. $10.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 yr. $12.00

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had at the following places: Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner); Shuler Bros. Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local circulation agents. Receipts given for published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for the return of payments sent to office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively authorized to use for publication of all news dispatches received by it or its local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., FEB. 15, 1932.

AN ENDANGERED REFORM.

The agreement under which the larger part of the textile mills of the country agreed a year ago to discontinue the night employment of women and minors, is reported to be in serious danger of abrogation on March 1 because of the refusal to co-operate on the part of a comparatively small per cent of the mills.

During the fall of 1930 and the early months of 1931 a campaign, headed by the Cotton Textile Institute of New York, was launched to secure agreement on the part of 75 per cent of the industry to put this much-needed reform into effect. By March 1 the requisite number of pledges had been received and the new policy became effective.

The agreement was entered into by the mills with the understanding that the 75 per cent basis would apply not only to the total spindles in the country but would also include an equal per cent of the night runners. In addition, continuance after March 4 of this year was contingent upon an increase to 80 per cent in the mills co-operating.

Today this mark has been reached in its application to the total spindles in operation, but not in the number of night-running groups manufacturing specific types of materials. As a result it is now reported that unless increased co-operation from the latter class of mills is secured, the other mills must, in self-defense, abandon the effort to make permanent the reform launched a year ago.

Few more progressive steps have been made by the textile industry than the move to take women and children out of mills at night. The social and humanitarian benefits are so obvious that the lack of interest shown by the relatively small group of manufacturers can be attributed only to a remarkable lack of foresight or to a selfishness not in keeping with modern economic trends.

The movement has had unanimous and wholehearted public approval from its inception. Such organizations as the National Consumers' League, the National League of Women Voters and the Southern Council on Women and Children have lent their aid in the efforts to bring about a discontinuance of a practice which has long been a discredit to the textile industry, and which the developments of the last year show has been a handicap to its soundness.

During the period when the great majority of mills have eliminated night work by the women and children of the mill families statistics show there has been a greater unanimity of running time than has been experienced in a decade.

This demonstration of the soundness of the new policy from a business standpoint is emphasized by the fact that during 1931 surplus stocks were reduced by 20 per cent, total textile shipments being 4 per cent in excess of production. Thus even in a year of abnormal supply and demand conditions the discontinuance of night work tended to stabilization.

The enforced abandonment of this reform would be certain to bring public condemnation upon the comparatively small group of mill owners who, either from failure to realize its benefits or greed for unfair profits, stubbornly refuse to cooperate with the other more progressive and humanitarian members of the industry.

THE TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE.

The newly-organized Taxpayers' League of Atlanta and Fulton county will render invaluable service if it awakens our citizens to a realization of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

Atlanta has a population of more than a quarter of a million people but only a few thousand participate in the primary elections—and practically none exhibit any interest in the conduct of their local governments.

That condition of apathy on the part of the voters is largely responsible for existing governmental troubles. Until participation in the duties of citizenship becomes more general we may expect a continuance of the present condition, which finds inefficient and unfit officeholders in many governmental positions, with resultant waste and heavy taxation burdens.

The new league, headed by H. Y. McCord, one of Atlanta's most beloved citizens and able businessmen, is launched by a group of financial, business, and professional leaders. The organization committee is an excellent cross-section of the city's population, containing representatives of every element of our citizenship.

The efforts of the new organization are pledged to be non-partisan. Chairman McCord succinctly setting forth its purpose in the statement that "There is no secret about the league; we have no hidden motives or purposes, but we do proclaim our belief in good government and that burdens of taxpayers should be made as light as is consistent with sound practice."

The temporary platform adopted by the executive committee contemplates efforts looking to efficiency and economy in government; prevention of waste and extravagance; the arousing of citizens to their responsibilities; the presentation of clearly established facts to the voters; insistence on reduced and equitably distributed taxes; the upholding of the various branches of the city and county governments in their efforts to improve the service rendered the public, with adequate pay for their workers; and earnest endeavor to constructively assist in the development and expansion of the city generally.

Successful accomplishment of such a comprehensive program would revolutionize local governmental conditions. It is a platform to which no patriotic citizen could object in any detail.

The league should have the full and earnest co-operation of every voter holding in proper regard his rights of citizenship. Otherwise it will not be able to perform the most important service to which it aspires—the awakening of the great majority of the men and women of Atlanta and Fulton county to a true realization of their obligation to take part in the naming of their public officials, and the maintenance by them of sustained interest in the affairs of their local governments.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

Trespassers who make unauthorized use of railroad property, walking on tracks, riding freight trains or the trucks or platforms of passenger cars are gambling with death with all the odds against them.

The certain hazard which railway trespassers invite is again strikingly brought out by a bulletin of the safety bureau of the Southern railway system which shows that 146 trespassers were killed and 201 injured on the property of the Southern during the year 1931, and that during the ten-year period, 1922-1931, 1,402 were killed and 1,684 injured.

This toll of death and injury is as appalling as it is unnecessary. It is doubtless typical of results of trespassing on other large railway systems.

The constancy of the hazard which trespassers on railway property take is indicated by the Southern's figures which show that in the years, 1922 to 1931, inclusive, an average of 140.2 lives were sacrificed in this manner, the lowest yearly figure being 129 deaths in 1922 and the highest 154 in 1923. Since 1926, the number of deaths has not run below 140 which was the figure for both 1927 and 1928, while 153 were killed in 1929 and 147 in 1930. Injuries in 1931 were 20 above the previous high record of 181 in 1929, and 20 more than in 1930.

Useful citizens and school children have furnished a large proportion of the victims of this deadly practice. The warning to stay off railway property should be repeated as often and effectively as possible in the effort to reduce this human and economic waste.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

By Pierre Van Paassen.

Clemenceau's Gloves.

The case of the man in Cleveland who could not bring himself to answer a telephone because ten years ago as he answered one he heard the screams of his wife who was being murdered, is somewhat similar in psychological associations with that of Pincus Rutenberg, the great engineer who has died.

Rutenberg cannot bear the sight of his own hands. He always wears gloves and black ones at that. For it is with those hands that he squeezed the life out of the Priest Gapon, the aged provost who led 6,000 people to the frightful slaughter in front of the Petrograd winter palace in 1905. Gapon had come to the annual revolutionary feast, among whom was Rutenberg, and in the course of time he had managed to gain their confidence. When famine and destitution reached a climax, Gapon volunteered to lead the masses to the winter palace square to petition the czar for bread.

Six or seven thousand people followed him. They stood in the ice-cold blasts of a Petrograd winter singed by the wind and blowing from every house top into the mass of people. Not a shot missed. In a quarter of an hour the square was piled with corpses. There were many as the exits had been closed by Cossacks.

Rutenberg was in the square, but managed to escape or hide. He had seen Gapon's treachery. Later the chief leader Gapon to Finland, to a devoted life where the so-called revolutionaries had their headquarters. Here he faced a tribunal that condemned him to death. He was hanged. But he lived on in the hearts of the people who broke and Gapon fell to the ground.

At that moment Rutenberg jumped up, ran toward the crowd and squeezed the life out of his throat. Since that day the engineer has not been able to bear the sight of his own hands. He wears gloves, and when he writes or signs, he wears them. He is now addressing the chamber. Could there have been some sinister secret in his case also?

A Prophet In Syria.

Trouble has broken out in Syria and the French occupation of the land tribes cannot get it into their heads that the French occupation of their country is all for the good, solely to civilize them and make good Europeans out of them. It took 80,000 French troops to drill it into their heads six years ago, but they seem to have forgotten again. Perhaps they need another lesson.

At any rate, if reports emanating from that country are correct, they may get their lesson quickly. The trouble is that a prophet has appeared in those bare and God-forsaken hills north of Damascus. He is a thin, emaciated figure, with eyes like burning charcoal, he is, whose words have a way of inflaming the masses and causing them to do things which they would not do for the one true faith. He goes from village to village telling the people "The day is coming that justice shall reign in the earth. Not the justice of the French authorities, but the justice of God." The prophet quotes Isaiah, saying: "The day is coming when you shall inhabit your houses in freedom. You shall not build houses to see them burned by others." This is very dangerous talk.

Marshall Lyauty, the builder of the Moroccan empire, told me that whenever a Moslem begins to talk that way and gathers a crowd around him, it is the beginning of a revolt. The time has come to put him against the wall and shoot him. Not because he is bad. But to spare the people the trouble of fighting him.

The prophet was perfectly correct. Platte did the same thing.

When you are warm it is usually to expire.

BONERS are actual humorous tidbits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

The Egyptians built great dams to irrigate the Nile river.

Nero was a cruel emperor of Rome. He was a great artist, but was so cruel he killed himself to keep from being killed.

I would like to have known Mark Antony because he must have been a very weak will and must have been a lovable man.

I know Ancient History helps a person. A person spoke something about Demosthenes and at once remembered the story about him carrying the lantern around looking for an honest man.

The Greek style of architecture was more stylish than the Roman.

HAMILTON A. SMITH, colonel, 26th infantry, first division, American Expeditionary Force, awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action with the enemy near Soissons, France, July 10 to 22, 1918.

Colonel Smith spent the greater part of his time in the front lines to encourage and direct his command. Without a sign of fear for his personal safety, and by his courageous leadership inspired his officers and men to effective combat.

Residence at appointment, Millen, Ga. Posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action with the enemy near Soissons, France, July 10 to 22, 1918.

To Make the Jungle Safe, You Must Disarm the Tiger as Well as the Cattle

By Robert Quillen

"All those people who go about saying that war is inevitable and giving us their views on the next war are either dangerous lunatics or criminals."

That paragraph was written by a successful English author who fought through the World War from beginning to end.

Now he preaches disarmament and argues with matchless cunning that war is a product of preparedness—that nations heavily armed live in dread of one another and think in terms of conflict, so that a single misapprehension may at a moment break the tension and release the pent-up furies of destruction.

It is true. It is so obviously and indisputably true that millions who hate war accept it as the whole of truth and so are trapped and doomed.

When all men of a community are armed and each one lives in fear of his neighbor, a word or a look is enough to invite sudden death. Every man is ready to draw fire on the one who draws it first. Murder becomes commonplace, and weapons alone are to blame.

Yet men must arm to protect themselves and their homes if a madman walks the streets, threatening death to all who oppose him, and there is no law or servant of law to suppress him.

Nations can disarm and live together without fear or anxiety if all will disarm in good faith and none will envy or covet or dream of conquest.

But as the least quarrelsome of men must be prepared to protect his home in a land without police protection, so the nations must act to defend their rights and their properties so long as one among them, drunk with a sense of power, pants and lusts for conquest in violation of treaties, honor, justice and the dictates of common humanity.

There is no alternative except to disarm the properties, markets and rights in alien lands and look on in craven silence while the marauder rapes the world.

This nation would gladly lead the world in disarmament. It has set a good example. It has made overtures. But one nation can do nothing without cooperation, and it is criminal folly to leave America unprotected like a fat ox among wolves.

(Copyright, 1932, for The Constitution.)

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 14.—Eight hundred of the film colony's most representative professional group brightened the halls of the Ambassador hotel when Carmen Pantages and John House, who played the role of Dr. Frankenstein in the film of that name, scored a tremendous hit. He does with almost everything, for he is a master of the camera when it comes to shots and angles and quite a lot to the director who, after all, is up there to do the job.

This interesting commentary is perhaps the secret of young Laemmle's success.

While executives convene and salary cuts go on as the soothsayers of the industry are making a large business. Reach for crystal gazer instead. . . might be the motto of these children of the silver screen.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

Marion Davies, as maid of honor, was a blue lace frock out in the trail. Such little receptions are nothing at all in movieland. When Ruth Roland and Ben Bard were married 800 guests wished them luck and champagne, too. And when Bebe Daniels promised to love, honor and obey one Ben Lyon, health was drunk by the Beverly Hills where that occasion and toasts were called at a supper which, in its elaborate planning, left invited ones breathless with admiration.

ROOSEVELT BLOCKS NEW YORKERS'S HOUSE

Governor's Supporters Renew Drive for Delegates in Many States.

A serious threat at the candidate's nomination. In meeting the challenge of his proposal they are merely pursuing the natural and prudent course, and the fact that nothing is left undone to encourage a split within the party that is bent on having the convention go into a deadlock during the early balloting.

Believing that it is infinitely better to win the nomination before the convention than risk chances of stirring up animosities afterward, they are going out immediately with determination to do just that.

The political philosophy of Mr. Shouse that prompted him to make a veiled plea for uninstructed delegates is out of step with the traditions and record of the party, they assert. To refute the charges of Mr. Shouse, they cite the last democratic national convocation at which the balloting for president went beyond the first round—the historic Madison Square Garden convention which required more than 100 ballots and which gave rise to a bitterness that reflected itself in the overwhelming defeat of the nominees finally elected, Davis and Bryan.

At the moment Messrs. Cummings and Farley have not considered it necessary to parade their plans with a fanfare of formal announcements. They are proceeding on the theory that it is best to go about their business quietly but openly enough for the public to be generally informed.

The series of covertness goes on. Smith with congressional leaders here are nonetheless effective.

Up to the present time, with the prearranged campaign still in its preliminary stages, Roosevelt leaders have not run into any difficult or unencouraging obstacles. The program set advancing about as expected, and perhaps the reaction to the Smith statement has caused an outburst of more enthusiasm on the part of the governor's workers, who immediately went forth with greater determination.

As a sample of what the Cummings-Farley team is doing, plans were announced Saturday for going into the West Virginia preferential primary, scheduled for May 10. Extended conferences were held in national headquarters, and the campaign of John W. Davis, Mr. Shaver is understood to have told the two leaders yesterday in West Virginia since the state, as he put it, is already overwhelmingly for Roosevelt.

STORM CLOUDS GATHER OVER DEMOCRATIC PARTY BY EYON PRICE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—More and more swiftly the storm clouds are gathering across the sky of the democratic party. The national leaders for party harmony in 1932.

An open issue has been drawn at the leading presidential candidate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and influential elements of the party's high command, the actual speaker of the house, beginning, and retreat is no longer considered a possibility by either side. The democrats of the party are about to be asked to stand and be counted.

The issue, for the moment, turns on the question whether delegates to the convention should be elected by the states, or left free to make their own choice of a nominee.

Several days ago J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

A half-dozen other candidates are seeking to either sway a state or to block the election of Roosevelt. Although he has declared himself no candidate, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is expected to be entered in several states. The first delegation to be chosen since this movement really began was selected yesterday in Louisiana, and it is understood that the rest will follow.

Conferences on behalf of Roosevelt continued here today, and J. P. Shouse, who manages the democratic national headquarters, told the Associated Press the latter course would be best, in view of changing conditions. Yesterday, however, the Associated Press said that the Associated Press that Shouse's plan would disfranchise the rank and file and leave the decision to a small group of a handful of powerful leaders.

Key Raps 'Obstructionists;' New Fiscal Fight Seen Today

Mayor Tells Class Matters Will Be Remedied If "Trouble-Makers Step Aside."

Laying the present ills of Atlanta's fiscal situation to those he termed "obstructionists," and declaring matters will be remedied this week if "trouble-makers step aside," Mayor James L. Key spoke before more than 1,000 persons at the Capitol theater Sunday morning at the regular meeting of his Bible class.

Speaking quietly and with no indication of bitterness in his voice, the mayor criticized those he termed as enemies of Atlanta's welfare. He also criticized "the better element" for its failure to vote in elections.

"Before we can remedy matters we must bring to the best class of the people the conviction that they must vote," he said, "regarding the subject of exercising the rights of the ballot further, Mayor Key said."

"Just a few days ago two members of council were talking—one a constructionist and the other an obstructionist. The latter said he was not interested in civic clubs and their leaders, because they didn't vote any more."

'Zig-Zagging Across Europe, Asia' Is Subject of Van Paassen's Speech

Pierre Van Paassen's appearance in Atlanta Monday, February 15, at 8:15 o'clock at the City Auditorium, under the auspices of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, will be the outstanding event of the week. For the two past years the league has made a point of bringing to the city two or three outstanding speakers a year on national or international questions pertaining to government. Mr. Van Paassen is the first distinguished speaker on the league's program for 1932, and his subject will be "Zig-Zagging Across Europe and Asia," in which he will bring his audience close to the leading personalities of foreign countries. Presented to Atlanta audiences in the past were Rennie Smith, member of the English parliament; Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, congresswoman from Florida; Robert M. La Follette and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Reserved Section. League members will be seated in a reserved section, provided tickets are purchased in advance from the league office, 74 Whitehall street, or their membership card is presented at the box office the evening of the lecture. Tickets are 50 cents and the general public may be purchased at league headquarters or the Cable Piano Company. The first two rows will be reserved for those having difficulty in hearing, regardless of whether members of the league or not.

A surprise and treat is in store for league members, according to Mrs. Sinclair Jacobs, but it will not be announced until after Mr. Van Paassen's appearance on Monday. Mrs. Jacobs advises members to reserve a luncheon date for Saturday, February 20.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15. Pierre Van Paassen will speak to the Council of Jewish Women at their meeting at 3 o'clock at the temple house on Peachtree road.

Pierre Van Paassen will lecture in Taft hall at 8:15 o'clock this evening under the auspices of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, his subject to be "Zigzagging Across Europe and Asia."

Woman's Auxiliary Study Class of All Saints' church meets at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Gilmore, 1384 Piedmont avenue.

P.-T. A. class of St. Philip's cathedral meets at 3 o'clock in the chapter house.

P.-T. A. class of St. Philip's cathedral meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the chapter house.

Group meetings of the Women's Council of the Peachtree Christian church will be held at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Missionary Society of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church meets at 3 o'clock. The Bible study, First Kings: 18, will be conducted by Mrs. W. H. Major.

Circle No. 11, of the Second Baptist church, meets with the chairman, Mrs. J. G. Dodson, 1632 Ponce de Leon avenue, at 10 o'clock.

Nicolassen class of Peachtree Road Presbyterian church meets at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. M. A. Walters and Mrs. T. J. Hitt at 3393 Peachtree road.

Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church meets at 3 o'clock.

Woman's Auxiliary of the Westminster Presbyterian church meets at 8 o'clock at the church at 3 o'clock. The annual penny day exercises will be observed.

W. M. U. of the First Baptist church will feature a patriotic program with Judge Marcus Beck as guest speaker at 3 o'clock.

Rose Croix Chapter 257, O. E. S. will celebrate its sixteenth birthday at the meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the chapter room, at the Wigwam, 160 Central avenue.

Gate City Chapter No. 233, O. E. S., meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Red Men's wigwam.

Miss Gail MacDonald, Red Cross nurse, will resume teaching classes in home hygiene and care of the sick today.

Wagner music study group, sponsored by the Council of Jewish Women, meets this evening at 8 o'clock at the studio of Hugh Hodgson in the Erlanger building. Mr. Hodgson will conduct the musicale.

West End Baptist W. M. U. holds a business meeting this afternoon.

Atlanta Efficiency Institute, sponsored by the Senior Epworth League Union, will be held at Druid Hills Methodist church, opening today.

John R. Wilkinson Chapter, O. E. S., meets this evening in the chapter hall, corner of Bankhead and Ashby street.

Morningside Baptist W. M. U. holds an all-day missionary meeting.

Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., meets at Craigie House this afternoon.

Benefit Luncheon.

The women of Lakewood Heights Baptist church will serve a benefit luncheon today from 11:30 until 2 o'clock in the club room, on the fifth floor of Sterchi's, 116, 118 and 120 Whitehall street, S. W. The price will be 35 cents and the public is invited. Mrs. W. B. Davis will be the official hostess.

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Too "Worn-Out" to go

Another day broken... Couldn't stay on her feet a minute longer! Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound always relieves cramps. Try it next month.

Officers' committee meets at headquarters Monday, February 15, at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Paul Ackery is chairman of child welfare, and there will be a child meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Elliott, 5 Barksdale drive, Tuesday, February 16, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of working out a child welfare program for the eighth ward meeting in March.

The committee meets Friday, February 19, at the High museum at 3 o'clock. The subjects recommended for study on the National League program will be taken up for discussion, and include child labor, age of consent, children in need of special protection by the state; dependents, delinquents and defectives; children born out of wedlock, and the need of legislation relating to legitimate and child marriages. Among those taking part in the discussion will be Mesdames Tom Arnold, Morgan Smith, Charles Elliott and Ronald Pentecost.

Political Directory. "Facts" is off the press, and every member should have received her copy. The issue is called a "Political Directory" and gives full information as to officials in Fulton and DeKalb counties, as well as the state of Atlanta, state of Georgia and national officials voted upon by Georgians. It is an expansion of the issue published the first of each year, and members will find the directory valuable to keep on file for reference during the year. Extra copies have been printed, as it is expected that many other individuals and organizations will desire to purchase this number. Copies should be ordered at once, as the supply is limited, and after this week it will be impossible to get more copies printed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Are Hosts at Supper

Valentine decorations and favors featured the supper at which Mr. and Mrs. William Ogden entertained last evening at their home on Pace's Ferry road in honor of Miss Elizabeth Hunter and her fiancé, F. Gordon Morrill, Cleveland, Ohio, who is the guest of her brother, William and Joel Hunter Jr. A white-frosted cake, ornamented with red hearts and topped with a dozen roses, was served in tulle and holding a shower bouquet of valley lilies, centered the table decorations. A handsome lace cover was used and silver candlesticks holding shaded tapers tied with red tulle and silver ribbon showered with tiny red hearts.

Amusing comic Valentines, designed by the host, marked each place and other Valentines with verses about each guest were read. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hunter and Mrs. Joel Hunter assisted the hosts in entertaining. The guests included 12 members of the younger contingent.

Personal Intelligence

Miss Gail MacDonald has recovered from a recent illness at her home, 63 Fourteenth street, N. E.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hellams Gordon, of Chicago, formerly of Atlanta, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. E. Miller, 423 Clairmont avenue, Decatur.

Mrs. H. J. Mill is ill at her home, 108 East Seventeenth street, in Ansley Park.

Mrs. George W. Jenkins has returned from Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Palmour, of Gainesville, Ga., were recent visitors in the city.

Miss Mildred Hosch was the recent guest of relatives in Gainesville and Hoschton.

Giles B. Robertson left Thursday to spend the week-end with relatives in Villa Rica, Ga.

Mrs. Robert C. Alston has returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended the National Cathedral conference.

Mrs. Howard McCall and her sister, Miss Lillian Tidwell, are at the Bayshore hotel at Tampa, Fla.

Peggy Lee Patterns

Pattern No. 281-A.

The fashion-wise woman will include such a frock as this in her smart wardrobe. The skirt sweeps from the slim hold at the hips into pleats at the knee, lending grace to the figure. The blouse is comfortably smart, featuring a lapel collar just below the belted waist.

To get a pattern of this model send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps. Please write very plainly your name and address, style number and size of each pattern ordered.

Our new fashion magazine with color supplement and Paris style news is now available for 15 cents.

Address orders to Peggy Lee Patterns Department, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

MOLDED GRACIOUSNESS.

Pattern No. 281-A.

The fashion-wise woman will include such a frock as this in her smart wardrobe. The skirt sweeps from the slim hold at the hips into pleats at the knee, lending grace to the figure. The blouse is comfortably smart, featuring a lapel collar just below the belted waist.

To get a pattern of this model send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps. Please write very plainly your name and address, style number and size of each pattern ordered.

Our new fashion magazine with color supplement and Paris style news is now available for 15 cents.

Address orders to Peggy Lee Patterns Department, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Too "Worn-Out" to go

Another day broken... Couldn't stay on her feet a minute longer! Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound always relieves cramps. Try it next month.

Mrs. Harris Honors Daughter's Birthday In Brookhaven

Mrs. Thomas E. Harris entertained at a birthday party Saturday afternoon at her home on Decatur road in Brookhaven, honoring her daughter, Clara Macdonald, on the occasion of her twelfth birthday. Mrs. Harris was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Arla Ruth Harris, and those present were Wynell Smith, Viola Harris, Ruth Tolison, Jennell Tolison, Evelyn Beall, Grace Williams, Mary Stewart, Marie Boyd, Emily Boyd, Hazel Adams and Madeline Stickney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fuller were entertained with a surprise birthday dinner Sunday at their home on Kendrick avenue given by their children, the occasion being Mrs. Fuller's sixtieth birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beatenbough and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bachelor and son, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Fuller and children and Miss Clara Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tillman entertained the junior boys of the Methodist church Friday evening at the church. Those present were Cliff Higgins Jr., Charles Armbrust, Ralph Slator, Jimmie Woodall, John Frank Bass Jr., Dannie Cadore and Harold Sills.

Mrs. J. R. Bowden and son, Jackie, and Miss Montine Staples spent the week-end in Woodstock as guests of Mrs. Bertha Crow.

Miss Elvy Slaton entertained at a Valentine party Saturday afternoon at her home on Pine Grove avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kinsey and daughter, Mary, visited relatives in Gainesville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Doby spent Sunday in Alpharetta as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chambliss.

Circle No. 2 of the W. M. U. of the Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. Coker on Ogleshorpe avenue.

Mrs. F. Henry, of Marietta, spent the week-end in Brookhaven as guest of relatives.

Mrs. Minnie Cooper, of Lakeland, Fla., visited Mrs. Lillie Hopkins and Mrs. A. C. Coker last week.

Mrs. C. H. Hall is visiting relatives in Birmingham, Ala., this week.

SOCIETY EVENTS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15. The Piedmont Driving Club entertains at a Valentine ball this evening.

Mrs. Oliver Healey will be hostess at tea at 4:30 o'clock at her home on Peachtree road, honoring Miss Katharine Howell, a bride-elect of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhodes and Miss Josephine Crawford will entertain at a buffet supper at their home on Pace's Ferry road, honoring Miss Katharine Howell and Joseph Cooper Jr., whose marriage will take place Wednesday.

Mrs. Willford Leach will entertain the members of the executive board of the Atlanta Woman's Club at luncheon, honoring Mrs. William P. Dunn and Mrs. Thornton Fincher.

Mrs. J. O. Cravens will entertain at her home, 1438 North Morningstar drive, at a heart-dice party, celebrating the twentieth birthday of her son, Leon Joseph Cravens.

Ladies of the Lakewood Heights Baptist church will serve a chicken dinner at Sterchi's lunch room from 11 to 2 o'clock.

Burgess Children's Stories

MRS. MONKEY-FACE IS UNDECEDED.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Mrs. Monkey-face the Barn Owl was in a most undecided state of mind. Yes, sir; she was so. You see, she was beginning to think of the time that would soon come when she would have the care of a lot of eggs. And after that of a lot of hungry growing children. Never before had she been so undecided. Always her eggs had been laid in a dark corner of the belfry of a church a long way from where she was now living. Never had there been any question as to where the nest should be. It always had been in that particular place for the very good reason that there had been no other place suitable.

Here in Farmer Brown's big barn it was different. There were several places where those precious eggs might be laid. The trouble was that not one of those places really suited her, yet she could find none better. To begin with, the floor of the haymow was too far below the rafters on which she and monkey-face liked to roost, and too far below the hole in the gable window by which they entered and left the barn.

"There are two corners down there, either of which could be made use of, but I don't like either one," she explained to Monkey-face. "They are not dark enough to begin with. Sitting on eggs all day in a place where there is so much light would drive me crazy with uneasiness. That two-legged creature who comes up every day to take some of the hay would be sure to see me and find those eggs."

"Why not make a nest in the hay way over in that corner where the hay is close up under the roof?" asked Monkey-face.

"I've thought of that. Perhaps that is what we will do," Mrs. Monkey-face said. "It would be all right if we could be sure the hay would remain, but I've noticed that there is less and less hay every day. What would we do if that hay should be taken while the babies were helpless?"

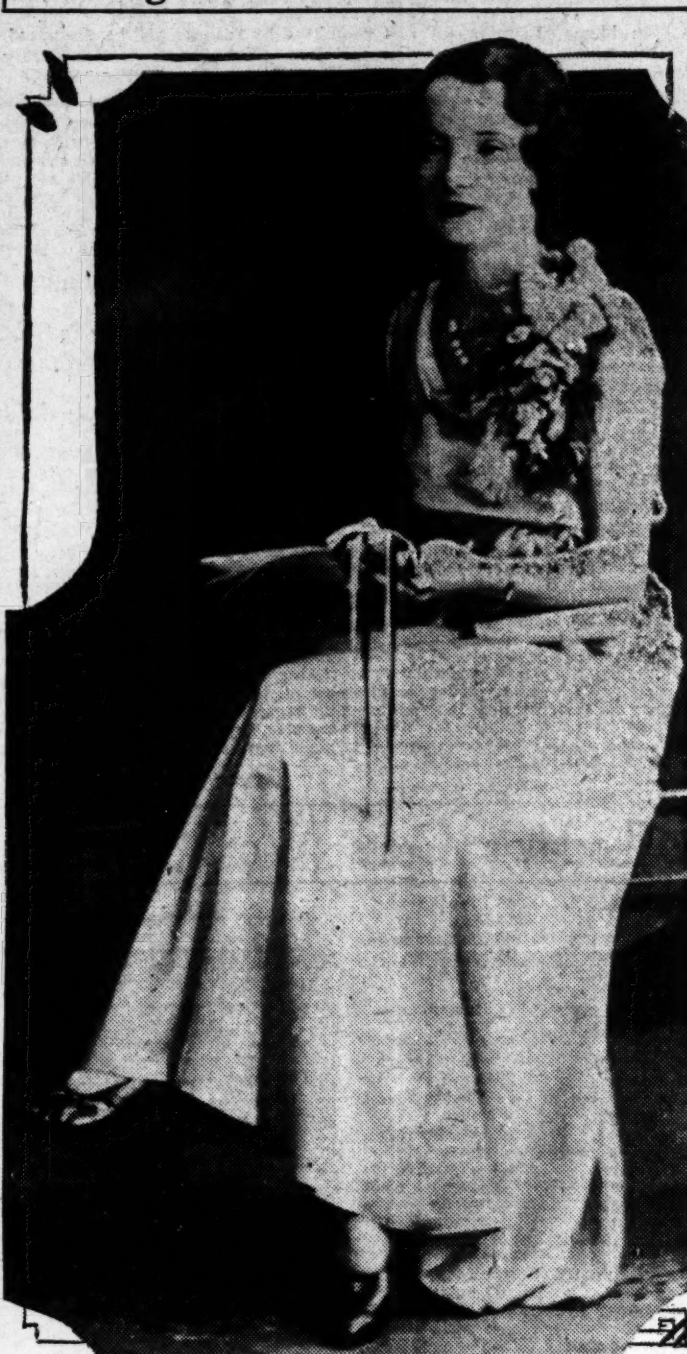

"I don't!" exclaimed Monkey-face. "He couldn't. He shook his head dolefully. 'It does seem as if somewhere in this big barn there should be a suitable nesting-place for a couple of Owls who are not too fussy.'"

"But I am not fussy about some things," declared Mrs. Monkey-face. "I am not fussy about a nest, for I can get along without any nest at all if the place is right. But I am fussy about the place. It must be reasonably dark and it must be where we are not likely to be disturbed. I sometimes wish that we were back where we came from."

"I don't!" exclaimed Monkey-face in a most decided manner. "What nicer place to live in than this barn can you ask for? As for living, we haven't known what it is to be really hungry since we arrived here. No, sir; I don't want to go back, and I don't believe you do either, my dear."

Copyright, 1932, by The Constitution.

High School Valedictorian

Miss Pauline Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Collins, who was selected to serve as valedictorian at the mid-year graduating exercises of Commercial High School recently. Photo by Lewis' Studio.

Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., Will Present Washington Bicentennial Program Today

Atlanta Chapter D. A. R. meets at Craigie house, this afternoon with the regent, Mrs. Thomas C. Mell, in the chair. Reports of officers will be given and delegates and alternates elected to the national D. A. R. congress, which meets in Washington, D. C., the week of April 18.

An interesting program has been arranged for the afternoon. Pupils from the studio of Miss Ruth Dabney Smith will give the musical numbers including a violin solo by Carol George, accompanied at the piano by Margaret Cooper, and a piano solo by Miss Sylvia Pringle. A feature of the afternoon will be the bicentennial program. Mrs. Bun Wylie, state regent of the Georgia D. A. R., will present a Gilbert Stewart portrait of George Washington and make the address. The singing of patriotic songs will be led by Mrs. Troy Roper, soprano soloist of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church and pupil of Mrs. Kurt Mueller. Members of the Children of the Revolution and pupils of Miss Mark Orme will dance the minute in colonial costume. Poems by two Georgia poets will be read by Mrs. Hugh Dobbins.

Members are requested to make reservations in advance for the Martha Washington luncheon, to be given at the chapter house, Monday, February 22, at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Moreland Speer, chairman, will be present and tickets may be secured at this time. A social hour will follow the afternoon program. Those invited were Dr. and Mrs. George Breitenbucher and members of the hospitality committee.

Cascade O. E. S.

Cascade Chapter, No. 274, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, February 16, at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic hall, corner Beecher street and Cascade avenue. Members of the order are invited by Mrs. Bessie Greenoe, worthy matron, and Charles A. Bostwick, worthy patron. Members of the chapter are invited to attend the musical drama, "Life's Railway to Heaven," by Charlie T. Tillman, to be given Sunday evening, February 21, at Base Hospital No. 48.

Lillian Mae Patterns

Pattern 2286 is obtainable only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 46. Size 16 requires 21-1/2 yards of 39-inch fabric, 3 yards of lace.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted. Send for the new Spring Fashion catalog, 32 pages of chic, authentic Lillian Mae styles for adults and children. The newest frocks for afternoon, evening and sports wear, exquisite lingerie, attractive house dresses and adorable kiddie models are featured—all personally chosen by Lillian Mae, and all fashionable, practical and easy and inexpensive to make. Price of catalog fifteen cents.

Address all mail and orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Pattern 2286 is obtainable only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 46. Size 16 requires 21-1/2 yards of 39-inch fabric, 3 yards of lace.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted. Send for the new Spring Fashion catalog, 32 pages of chic, authentic Lillian Mae styles for adults and children. The newest frocks for afternoon, evening and sports wear, exquisite lingerie, attractive house dresses and adorable kiddie models are featured—all personally chosen by Lillian Mae, and all fashionable, practical and easy and inexpensive to make. Price of catalog fifteen cents.

Address all mail and orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Pattern 2286 is obtainable only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 46. Size 16 requires 21-1/2 yards of 39-inch fabric, 3 yards of lace.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted. Send for the new Spring Fashion catalog, 32 pages of chic, authentic Lillian Mae styles for adults and children. The newest frocks for afternoon, evening and sports wear, exquisite lingerie, attractive house dresses and adorable kiddie models are featured—all personally chosen by Lillian Mae, and all fashionable, practical and easy and inexpensive to make. Price of catalog fifteen cents.

Address all mail and orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Pattern 2286 is obtainable only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 46. Size 16 requires 21-1/2 yards of 39-inch fabric, 3 yards of lace.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted. Send for the new Spring Fashion catalog, 32 pages of chic, authentic Lillian Mae styles for adults and children. The newest frocks for afternoon, evening and sports wear, exquisite lingerie, attractive house dresses and adorable kiddie models are featured—all personally chosen by Lillian Mae, and all fashionable, practical and easy and inexpensive to make. Price of catalog fifteen cents.

Address all mail and orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Pattern 2286 is obtainable only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 46. Size 16 requires 21-1/2 yards of 39-inch fabric, 3 yards of lace.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted. Send for the new Spring Fashion catalog, 32 pages of chic, authentic Lillian Mae styles for adults and children. The newest frocks for afternoon, evening and sports wear, exquisite lingerie, attractive house dresses and adorable kiddie models are featured—all personally chosen by Lillian Mae, and all fashionable, practical and easy and inexpensive to make. Price of catalog fifteen cents.

Address all mail and orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, care The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

'Queen's Husband' Will Be Presented By Dramatic Club

"The Queen's Husband," a comedy in three acts, by Robert Emmet Sherwood, will be presented by the Bessie Titt College Dramatic Club at Joel Chandler Harris school Saturday evening, February 20, at 8 o'clock.

Cast of characters is as follows: King Eric VIII, Louis Waldrop; Granton, his secretary, Elsie Palmer; General Northrup, Carol Terry; Lord Birken, Ermine Palmer; Queen Martha, Nell Gates; Princess Anne, Leith Carlton; first lady in waiting, Rebecca Mullins; second lady in waiting, Hewlette Brown; Follman, a liberal, Ruth Park; Laker, an anarchist, Lou Ella Phillips; Major Bient, Mary Bennett; Philippe, a footman, Frances Whitworth; Felcy, a footman, Margaret Wise; Prince William of Greece, Ermine Palmer.

The play is sponsored by the Young Woman's Auxiliary of Gordon Street Baptist church. Admission is 25 cents.

Georgia Military Academy Cadets Hosts at Dance

Among the social affairs of the Valentine season is the dance given by the cadets of the Georgia Military Academy in the academy dining hall Saturday evening. Major C. M. McQuarrie and Mrs. McQuarrie and Major D. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward were assisted in receiving the guests by the officers of the academy and their wives. The Valentine idea was carried out in the dance programs and in the decorative motif of large red hearts and red and white crepe paper with which the hall was adorned.

Major McQuarrie and Mrs. McQuarrie, Major Woodward and Mrs. Woodward, and the officers of the academy and their wives were assisted in chaperoning by a group of prominent Atlanta matrons. Mrs. Walter Colquitt, Mrs. E. W. Shelton, Mrs. Roy Moran and Mrs. Marion Hydrick.

Among the young ladies present were Misses Annette Hightower, Helen Aycock, Celeste Smith, Julia Colquitt, Christine Thiesen, Clara Hay, Lucile Willis, Nina Fuller, Maria Castellanos, Elise Trehune, Madeline Wrigley, Evelyn Wrigley, Rose Lee Marks, Katherine Lynch, Elsie Elrod, Emma Meadowbrook, Ruth McCurry, Harriet Milam, Edith Chapman, Elizabeth Center, Alice Armstrong, Virginia Grege, Martha DeGolian, Katherine Gray, Geraldine Robinson, Mary Edwards, Betty Gregg, Martha Allen, Muriel Moran, Charlotte Sage, Martha Fuller, Dorothy Dugan, Jean Crowell, Nell Freeman, Elizabeth McClary, Anne Shelt, Alberta Palmour, Julia Hoyt, Amelia Hewitt, Snow, Marjorie Woodward, Grace Woodward and Martha Burnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr Give Bridge Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Carr entertained at four tables of bridge Saturday evening at their home, 680 Cherry street. The house was decorated in spring flowers and red Valentines. Those invited were Dr. and Mrs. Paul Staggall, Dr. and Mrs. Jay G. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mulder, Mr. and Mrs. Summy Hall, Mr. and Mrs. William Fincher, Miss Lillian Martin, Miss Sara Clark and William Cross and Julian Willison.

William Joel Leach Christened At Impressive Home Ceremony

William Joel Leach, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Willford Ransom Leach, was christened yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of his parents on the North Decatur road in Druid Hills at an impressive service before a group of friends and relatives, the Rev. Dr. S. H. C. Burkin, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist church, officiating. Acting as godfather for the little boy was his paternal uncle, William McGaw Macdonald, of Oakville, Ontario, Canada, and Mrs. Charles J. Haden, the baby's maternal great aunt, was named godmother. The service took place in the living room before a bank of palms, cydonium ferns and foliage plants arranged in front of the handsome ivory mantel. On each end of the mantel were seven-branched brass cathedral candelabras in which burned white tapers. A large basket of Easter lilies, white roses and fuchsia colored gladioli was arranged in the center before the handsome dulc gold framed mirror suspended above the mantel. The baptismal bowl of hammered brass, which was brought to this country from the Holy Land by Dr. Burkin, was placed on an alabaster pedestal and rested in a mound of valley lilies and white hycineaths. Another impressive feature of the service was the fact that the baptismal water used for the christening came from the River Jordan, having been bottled and brought also by Dr. Burkin from this renowned stream of water. The baby was dressed for the christening in the sheers of white batiste trimmed with pink tucks and narrow lace.

At the conclusion of the service a poem written by Dr. W. F. Melton and dedicated to William Joel Leach, was read by Dr. Melton.

Following the service Mr. and Mrs. Leach entertained at tea, at which several hundred guests called. They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Leach, of Toronto, Canada, the baby's paternal grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. William McGaw Macdonald, of Oakville, Ontario, Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haden. Mrs. Leach wore for the occasion a handsome gown of fuchsia shaded chiffon trimmed with a ruche and long, tight-fitting sleeves of exquisite Pointe de Venise lace. Her shoulder spray was formed of white orchids with purple throats.

Receiving the guests cards at the door were little Misses Elizabeth Winslow and Emily Frances Walsh, daughter of the hosts. They wore dainty frocks of canary yellow hand-embroidered crepe and shoulder clusters of sunset rosebuds and valley lilies. They carried armfuls of pink rosebuds and presented one to each lady bearing a tiny card engraved with the name of William Joel Leach. Assisting in entertaining were Mesdames Ernest Woodruff, George C. Walters, Y. Frank Freeman, Eugene V. Haynes, Steve A. Garrett, Hamilton Douglas Jr., Ernest Hill, Brainerd Clapp, S. F. Boykin, B. F. Fraser Jr., Francis Block, Alonzo Richardson, S. H. C. Burkin, Arthur Montgomery, Joseph Winslow, B. H. Mobley, W. Henry Smith Jr., W. Ott Alston, Daniel Madison Byrd, Rowe Price and Miss Mary Jane Hill. Punch was served on the enclosed porch from bowls embedded in red and white sweet peas and smilax by Mesdames George Burr Leonard, George A. Williams, Franklin S. Chandler, Harold McKenzie, Sam Inman Cooper, Granger Hansell, Charles P. Hodge and B. T. Carter.

In the study parlor where the guests registered in the baby's book a color scheme of red and white was carried out in the decorations. From the chandelier a shower of tiny red satin hearts fell from garlands of smilax and Easter lilies and red roses graced the tables. Mrs. Elizabeth T. Winslow and Mrs. Willie Martin Hurt had charge of the baby's guest book and were assisted by Mrs. Charles T. Winslow and Mrs. Nisbet Marge. The Valentine decorations.

The Valentine motif was exquisitely carried out in the dining room decorations, the tea table presenting a scene of rare beauty with its red and white floral adornments. Veiled by a handsome Burano lace cloth the centerpiece of the table was formed of a mound of red and white roses, red and white carnations and narcissi from which arose a large floral heart of red and white sweet peas and valley lilies. Arranged at artistic intervals on the table were silver candlesticks holding red burning tapers tied in the center with rosettes of red tulle. Vases of long-stemmed red and white roses were placed on the buffets and consoles.

William Joel Leach is the grandson on his maternal side of the late Wilson A. Bates and Mrs. Elizabeth Winslow Bates, who were numbered among Atlanta's most beloved and influential citizens, and whose families were prominent pioneers of the old south.

Arts Assembly Plans Annual Bal Masque

The Studio Arts assembly will entertain at its annual Bal Masque, Friday evening, February 19, Mrs. Lafayette Butler, president of the Studio Arts Club, will preside at the affair, which will be held at the Bohemian club, in making a formal announcement of this interesting event, "advises that the artists, sculptors and professional members of Atlanta's distinctive art colony have spared no efforts to make this one of the most unusual affairs of the Bohemian calendar of this season."

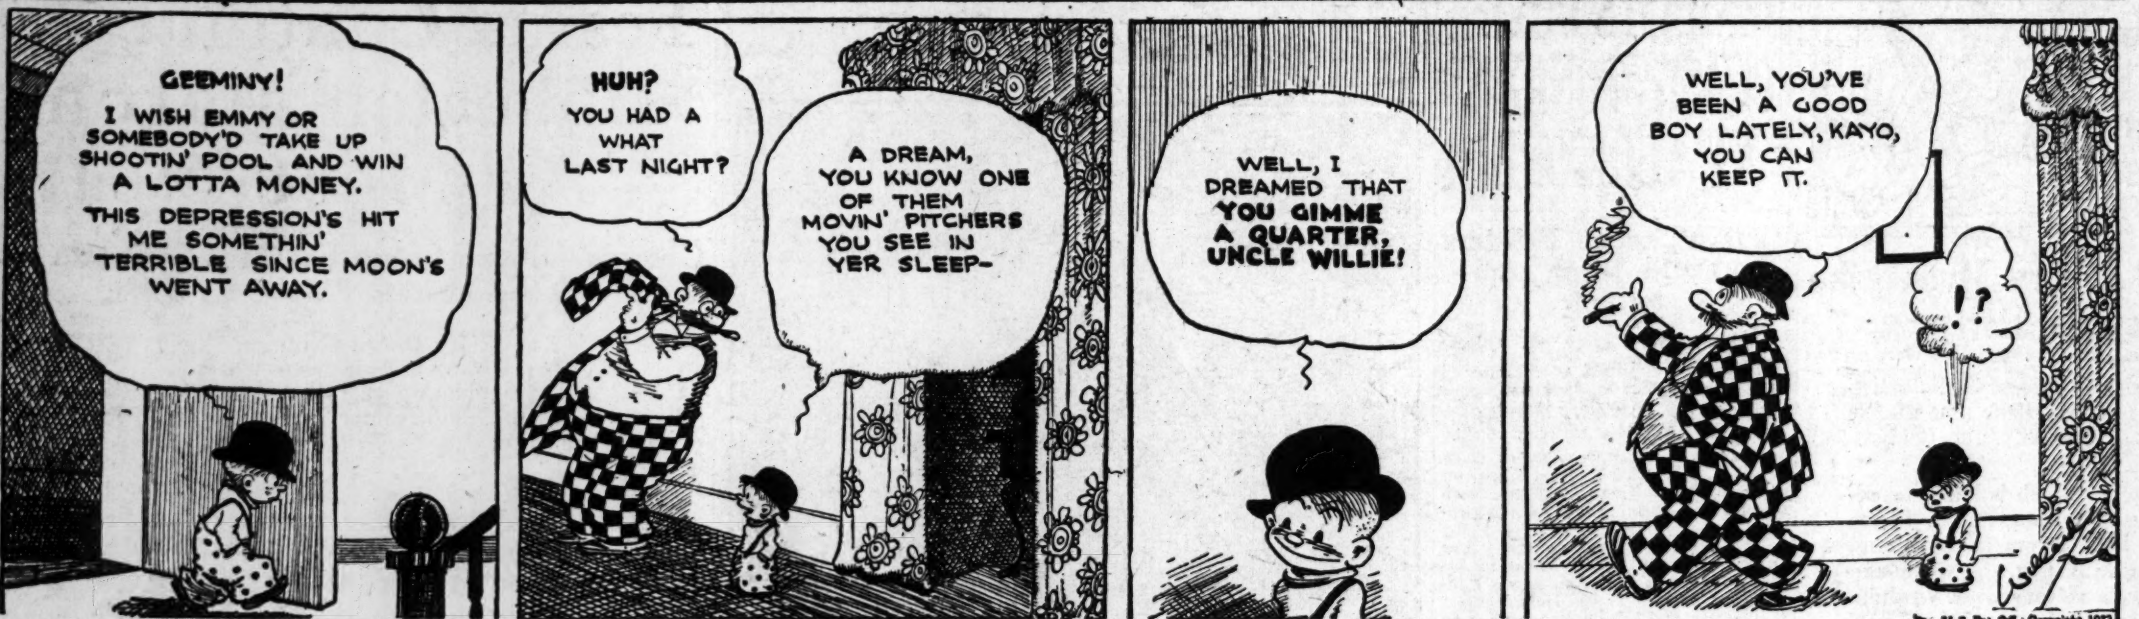

The splendor of costume and decorations will add gaiety to the occasion. Three judges selected from the prominent Atlantans, but in no way associated with the Studio Arts Club, will determine first and second prizes for the most attractive lady and gentleman costumes.

Refreshments will be served at midnight in the spacious lounge on the main floor of the club, and the Bohemian grill in the sub-bellage will serve an a la carte menu continuously. Fruit and nut trays will be served. Arts Assembly are invited to make reservations through members at the club at Hemlock 8658.

THE GUMPS—THE OLD GUARD

MOON MULLINS—THE SOUL OF GENEROSITY

ALLEY BRING ON THE BLOODHOUNDS

Aunt Het

"Amy says science has made it easier to raise babies, but I didn't have to get up at 3 o'clock on a cold mornin' to warm a bottle for mine." (Copyright, 1932, for The Constitution.)

SMITTY—ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Two Viewpoints

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Girl Crazy

JUST NUTS

Special!
ROGERS LONG PULLMAN
LOAF BREAD
2 19-OZ. LOAVES 15c

SOLD ONLY AT ROGERS SOLD ONLY AT QUALITY FOOD SHOPS

HERE'S WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR Lowest Cleaning Prices in the World

MEN'S WOOL SUITS
LADIES' PLAIN DRESSES 25c
ANY 3 GARMENTS $1
Cleaned, Pressed, Finished
Any Combination
Coats, Suits, Dresses

TOTEM CLEANERS

1403 No. Highland 1038 No. Highland 910 College Ave.
816 Gordon St. 835 Capitol Ave. 82 Georgia, S. W.
2205 P'tree Road 1018 Blvd. N. E. 988 P'tree at 10th
VE. 1890 508 Ponce de Leon HE. 3015

Southern Cultivator

Established in 1843. Oldest Farm Paper in the Southeast.
Circulation 94,553. 41,266 in Georgia

Bulk of Remainder in Adjoining States.

Display Ad Rate, 60c Per Line.
$8.40 Per Inch.

Classified Advertising, 6c Per Word

Sell the Farmers of This Section and Keep the Profits at Home.

Published 1st and 15th of Each Month.

Write or Telephone for Full Information.

THE SOUTHERN CULTIVATOR

148 West Alabama St., S. W.
ATLANTA

PHONE
WALnut 6565

Make Your Plans NOW

to attend
the 1932

Cooking School

OF THE

Atlanta Constitution

MARCH 1-2-3-4

THE EVENT OF THE YEAR

Bigger and Better Than Ever

Perfect Optical Service!

Yes, Sir! Schmeer's will furnish you with a new special white gold-filled frame as low as $3.95. Guard your health. Come in today for expert optical examination. No obligation. Get a new slant on life with properly fitted glasses. It will open a new world for you. This is as good a time as any to find out whether you need glasses.

Terms As Low as 50c Weekly SCHMEER'S 110 Whitehall St., S. W. Dr. C. C. Morris in Charge

Dial WA. 8497 For Appointment

KAYSER SILK NET HOSE

Ralph McGill, Sports Editor
Clarence Nixon
Jimmy Jones
Walter Wilkes
Roy E. White

SPORTS

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Grantland Rice
W. O. McGeehan
Henry McLemore
Alan J. Gould
Walter Trumbull

PAGE EIGHT

ATLANTA, GA., MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 15, 1932.

FIRST SPORTS EACH DAY

Atlanta Fans To Enjoy Busy Sports Week

KENTUCKY, MARYLAND HOLD LEAD IN SOUTH

ATLANTA FANS ARE PROMISED VARIED SLATE

Tilden, Tech Courtmen and Hunt Bout Feature Card.

By Jimmy Jones.

The month of February, which usually finds our various forms of sport in the doldrums, is ready to start moving at a double-quick, insofar as Atlanta is concerned.

Beginning today there will be a succession of interesting athletic events, marking the start of what is the beginning of the Southern conference basketball tournament the last of the month.

Almost every night this week there is something going on in this city to attract the lovers of manly competition. Boxing, tennis, basketball and more boxing are on the local schedule for this week.

Following is a thumbnail sketch of what is on the book:

TILDEN AND BOXING.

Monday night, February 15—Jack Denham's all-local boxing card at the auditorium.

Tuesday night, February 16—Bill Tilden and his retinue of racquet wielders at the auditorium.

Wednesday night, February 17—Georgia Tech vs. Mercer, basketball, at the auditorium.

Thursday night, February 18—N. G. I. C. basketball tournament begins at Athletic club with four games: Boys' High vs. Tech High for championship of Big Six. Atlanta vs. Mercer, basketball.

Friday night—Babe Hunt vs. Pietro Corri (10 rounds), Jake Denning vs. Benny Logan (10 rounds) at auditorium. Atlanta's first heavyweight above in several months.

Tech High—G. M. A. boxing at Grady court.

BASKETBALL.

Semi-finals N. G. I. C. basketball tournament.

Saturday night—Tech vs. Florida, basketball, at auditorium. N. G. I. C. finals at A. A. C.

On Tuesday afternoon there are four games in the semi-final round of the Big Six, prep basketball league, featuring Monroe vs. Boys' High, Madison vs. G. M. A.

There will be two independent classes of N. G. I. C. entrants on Tuesday, Fulton playing at Marist and U. S. B. meeting DeCATur in final pre-tourney game.

College basketball also holds a high spot with the approach of the tournament.

Tech has three more games with Mercer, Florida and Georgia and after the Jackets' display against Auburn, considered a "dark horse" tournament favorite, the Jackets will be more interested in the Jackets.

PERKINS HITS STRIDE.

Bill Perkins struck his scoring stride after Mike Chambers did a great job of patching on his knee and scored 16 points. Bill is away behind his last year's scoring mark but has a chance to greatly improve it.

Atlanta boxing fans have a great deal to store for the rest of February, for besides the two local cards this week, Jack Dempsey meets his comeback test against King Levinsky at Chicago Thursday night.

On Friday night week in the same city, W. L. Stribling, native Georgian, has a big obstacle to hurdle in his own comeback when he fights Ernie Schauf at the Chicago stadium.

Then, for the bowling enthusiasts, there is the third annual city duck-pin championship tournament beginning Monday and running through the week.

Now the winter sports "depression" seems to be at an end, for with the close of February comes March—the biggest month for baseball chatter.

Rain Fails To Halt Golfers of Atlanta

Atlanta's golfers will have their rounds, despite decidedly unfavorable weather conditions, and Sunday afternoon there were numerous foursomes on the various courses.

The regular Sunday afternoon "dog-fight" novel tournament at East Lake was called off, along with several matches in the regular midwinter tournament being played on the Ansley Park course.

East Lake reported the largest play in the rain with more than 80 Sunday morning on the two courses, including 25 or more visitors.

El Ranchito Poloists Capture Nautlius Cup

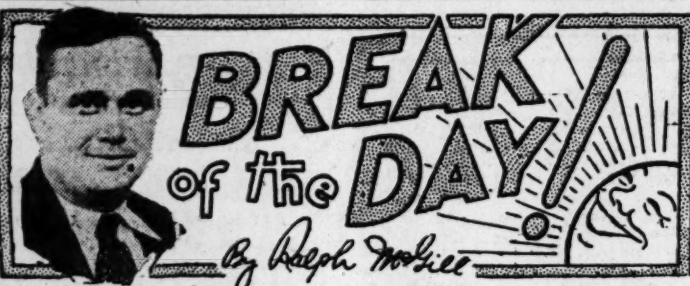

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14.—(AP)—The El Ranchito Polo team, captained by A. B. Wharton, of Arlington, Texas, won the Nautlius challenge cup here today, defeating the Cleveland team, led by Harry Frank, of New York and Miami, 11 to 6.

Cecil Childers, Wharton's partner in the Texas cattle business, scored six goals for El Ranchito. Wharton rode No. 1.

The Nautlius cup was presented the winning team by Mrs. Robert Law, of Miami Beach.

Sarazen Is Winner Of Metairie Tourney

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Gene Sarazen, of Great Neck, L. I., won the Metairie Country Club's open golf tournament today with a 72-hole total of 230 strokes. Harry Cooper, of Chicago, was second with 231, and third place went to Denny Shute, of Cleveland, with a 232.

Our Tournament Looks Very Much Like a Kentucky-Maryland Party.

From the looks of the Southern conference basketball situation the approaching tournament might well be made up of 14 bytes competing with Maryland and Kentucky, the finalists last winter.

Neither team has lost a game. Each is likely to enter the tournament with a large, floral horse collar in the lost column. Kentucky has been strong right along. Maryland seems to be growing in power. A week ago they eked out, as the boys say, a victory over Virginia. And last Saturday the Old Liners won around the Cavaliers like a cooper around a barrel, winning under wraps, 46 to 18.

I suspect, however, that Maryland's style of play had much to do with the closeness of the score a week ago. The Old Liners, the champions by the way, play much as the professionals do. They can throttle their game down to five miles per hour or they can make 90 on the straightaway and about that much on the turns.

The Old Liners won last season because they had in young "Boze" Berger one of these lads who does not know when he is licked. When adversity threatens he flourishes like the green bay tree, which according to Holy writ is very flourishing. Maryland had in him "the difference," as the midget said when he held a blue steel .45 gun on the giant.

The grand old dope points to clear paths for Maryland and Kentucky until they collide at the finish to determine which one shall go home to be met by the school band.

LOOKOUT FOR THAT BICYCLE.

And yet there are no white flags fluttering above the basketball camps at other institutions. They are coming along to see what can be done about it.

The stage is set for one of the upsets which annually stagger the experts. Too often do the favorites step on an invisible bicycle and fall headlong into oblivion, giving the grand old dope one great kick in the death struggle.

Things look almost too good for Kentucky and Maryland. Yes, sir, much too good. The path of true love, said the Avon bard, never runs smooth. And yet it is a newly-paved concrete boulevard compared with the path a favored team has in a period of concentrated competition. The stage is set for an upset.

THE NEW DARK HORSE.

It is difficult to understand how the Tech team which defeated Georgia and Auburn at the auditorium lost to Georgia in Athens and Auburn in Auburn.

Tech's play Saturday night was smart and accurate. Every essential for victory was there. Playing as the Tech team did Saturday night, it would win from Kentucky or Maryland were those teams not at their peak.

If Bill Perkins' knee holds together, and what a well sick man he was Saturday night, he will lead that team close to the semi-finals if not into them. And if someone will obligingly remove the Wildcats or the Old Liners the Jackets might even get to the finals. The Tech chance looks much better than Georgia's at this writing. The Bulldogs, by barely defeating a weak Florida team one night and losing the next, didn't help their standings any. Which may be a help in the tournament.

A SCHOOL FOR OFFICIALS.

It is to be hoped that the basketball officials of the state will attend the auditorium and watch the officiating. While the writer has no complaint to make about the officiating most everyone else has.

And there is definite ground for complaint. The teams that enter the tournaments here annually have more fouls called the first day than on any of the following days of play.

They are patently not used to strict, or correct, officiating as called for by the rules. It requires a day of play to discover that the things their local officials permit will not go in the tournament. Hence one wonders why the local officials do not improve the standard of their efforts.

THE BIG SHOT.

North Carolina alumni, some of them at any rate, are trying to make Coach Chuck Collins "The Big Shot—At" of the Carolinas.

Collins has 105 men out for spring practice and the newspaper boys, for some unknown reason, are printing diatribes from alumni who wish to take a shot at Chuck Collins.

Mr. Collins has not won any championships it seems. And he took drastic measures with a couple of players who violated training rules flagrantly and publicly.

North Carolina's best football has been played under Chuck Collins' direction. The simple facts are that the North Carolina alumni, used to very little material, see large quantities of it under Collins and can't understand why he doesn't win titles.

The discontented alumni apparently argue that if Collins has 105 men out for spring practice he should tick any other squad which has that many or less.

MATERIAL DOUBTFUL.

As a matter of fact the North Carolina football material isn't any too well trained when it comes to college. The high school and prep school football played in the section from which Collins' material comes doesn't know a great deal.

Collins has never had more than one or two good

DENHAM'S BOYS CLASH TONIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

Sixteen Local Fighters To Do Battle at Auditorium.

Sixteen boxers, every one a local product, will be paraded across the canvas tonight in Jack Denham's opening show at the auditorium. The curtain-raiser between Mickey McGuire and Fred Echols will come at 8:15 o'clock and from then on there will be continuous fighting, there being eight bouts in all on the program.

Working on the theory that there is some excellent boxing talent in Atlanta that has been neglected, Denham has decided to use local fighters exclusively until he discovers one good enough to challenge an outsider.

All of the boxers on tonight's bill have been coached along by Denham, himself a well-known heavy in his day.

Clint Towns and Battling Maddox, a couple of promising Atlanta boys who have made considerable progress, will fight the feature bout of six rounds. The others will be four-rounders.

There will be 34 rounds of fighting in all.

Eddie Hanlon has been engaged as referee.

Popular prices will prevail. The full card is as follows, in the order of appearance:

Mickey McGuire vs. Fred Echols. Young Hucksby vs. Johnny Wilson. Battling Mike vs. Jackie Gordon. Larry Little vs. Irish Brannon. Jimmy Hanson vs. Leo Ulrich. Billy Wilson vs. Charles Brown. Billy Carter vs. Jack Cowan. Clint Towns vs. Battling Maddox.

SMITHIE BOXERS IN FINAL ROUND

Tech High boxers will go into action at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Henry Grady gymnasium in the final of the annual school tournament with eight and possibly nine bouts on the card. The winners and some of the most promising of the boxers will meet in the semi-finals Saturday night in the Tech High-G. M. A. dual meet scheduled for Friday night.

Tonight's program should be one of the best athletic fights in the history of boxing at Tech High, for there will be a title at stake in almost every match. In addition to titles, the winners will receive letters and sweaters and will make up the Smithie boxing team for the remainder of the year.

Some of the matches will be grudge affairs, and the participants have been storing up energy to cut loose against their opponents tonight. In the semi-finals Saturday night there was so much fighting in the early rounds of some of the bouts the contestants were unable to answer the bell in the last round. Two technical knockouts featured the card and in two other instances the judges and referees were unable to decide on a winner. Those youngsters will fight it out tonight.

In addition to the fight card, Pete Davis will wrestle D. B. White and Young Rubley is scheduled to meet John Dameron as added attractions. Homer Sears, G. I. A. A. flyweight champion last year, will meet Charles Gaddis, and Orlie Simons, reserve center on the 1931 football team, meets Lewis Hindman, in two of the feature bouts for tonight. Each of the fights will be three two-minute-round affairs.

The card follows:

Bill Davis (112) vs. Lee Graham (100). Homer Sears (115) vs. Charles Gaddis (125). Orlie Simons (128) vs. Rose Yarbelle (125). John Smith (125) vs. Hollis Simons (128). F. J. Killian (145) vs. David Williams (147). Orlie Smith (165) vs. Lewis Hindman (161). Orr (192) vs. Carlton Koons (198). Pete Davis (112) vs. D. B. White. Young Rubley vs. John Dameron.

Boys' High, G. M. A. Hold Workouts.

Boxers from Boys' High and G. M. A. will hold light workouts this afternoon in the final preparation for a dual match scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the Henry Grady gymnasium. It will be the first of a series of dual matches between Tech High, Boys' High and G. M. A. during the week.

Corbett's Condition Is Vastly Improved

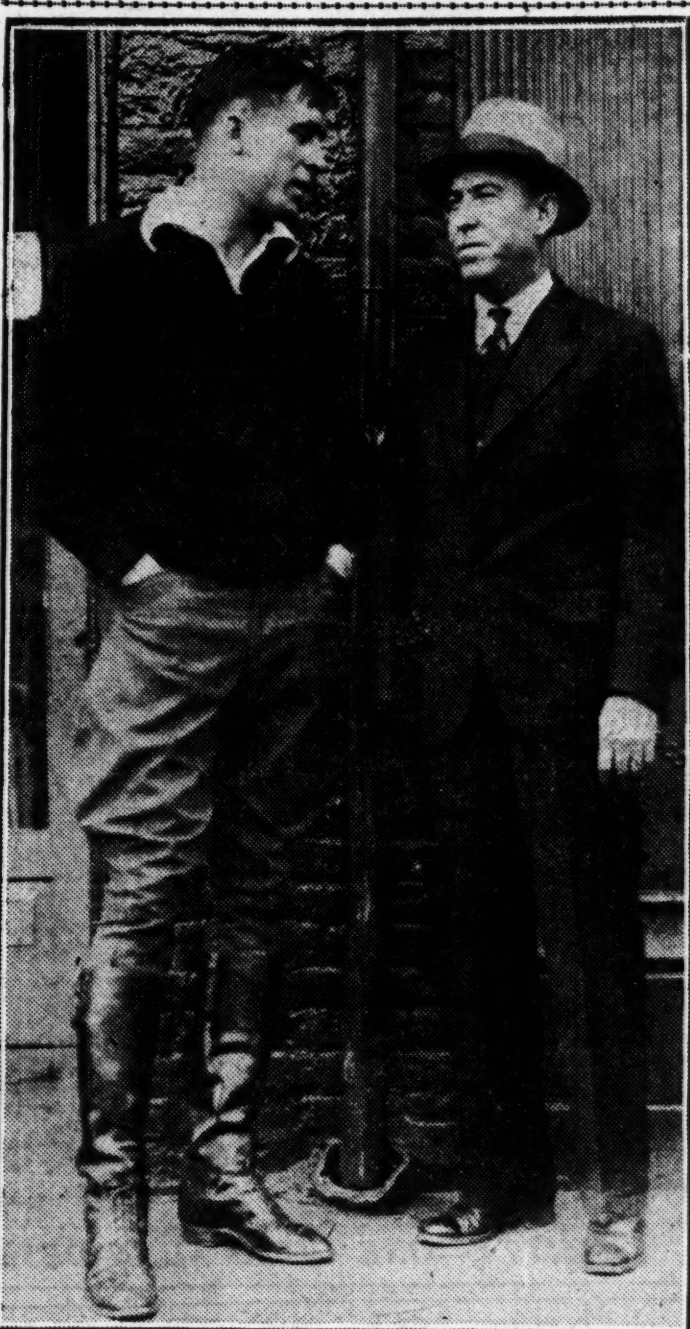

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(AP)—James J. Corbett's condition was so far improved today that his personal physician, Dr. George W. Fish, told him he could leave the Edward S. Hartness pavilion of the medical center whenever he chose.

The former heavyweight champion, who has been suffering from a heavy cold, decided to remain in the hospital for a few more days as a precautionary measure.

Sacred Heart Plays Druid Hills Tonight

The Sacred Heart Alumnae basketball team will open the week's activities at 7:30 o'clock tonight against the Druid Hills Epworth League girls on the Druid Hills court on Semihole avenue.

'Catfish' Talks It Over

"Catfish" Smith (left), famous Georgia athlete, will join some professional baseball team as soon as he completes his senior year at Georgia this spring. He is shown here talking things over with Bill White (right), veteran baseball coach at Georgia. Smith is likely to try pro football also.

Pachyderms Present Formidable 'Eleven'

Grapplers Furnish Abundant Material for All-American Wrestling-Grid Team.

By Jimmy Jones.

Mr. John Murray, of the Georgia Tech football murrays, has put the writer in the grease, as the boys say.

A few days ago it occurred to Mr. Murray, who is sometimes called the Beau Brummel of Techwood, that the writer should sit himself down and do a piece on the many art of wrestling, instead of commenting so extensively along the lines of the saner sports.

"You could," chided the well-dressed Mr. Murray, "pick a swell All-American football team of wrestlers or an All-American wrestling team of footballers, whichever you cared to call it."

He went on to direct attention to the vast number of collegians who had taken up body-slammings in a big way and had capitalized on healthy football reps to build up puny bankrolls.

"It has actually helped relieve the unemployment situation," Mr. Murray further pointed out. This brought to mind that Henry Weber, local impresario of pachyderms, observed recently that there are not enough wrestlers and that the promoters could use 100 more f. o. b. (on the hoof) right now.

Wednesday, at Los Angeles, Steve Hamas, Pacific, N. J., vs. Armand Emanuel, San Francisco, heavyweights, 10; at Indianapolis, Lou Scozzia, Buffalo, N. Y., vs. Larry Johnson, Chicago, negro, light-heavyweights, 10; at Minneapolis, Gary Lee, Chicago, vs. My Sullivan, St. Paul, welterweights; at West Palm Beach, Ray Trumble, Chicago, vs. K. O. Johnny Roberts, Huntington, W. Va., light-heavyweights, 6; at Trenton, Caughn, Tampa, Fla., vs. Roy Hamilton, Detroit, junior lightweights, 8.

Friday, at Daytona Beach, Fla., Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, vs. Bob Godwin, Atlanta, light-heavyweights, and Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., vs. Jimmy Spivey, Columbus, Ga., welterweights, each 10.

Thursday, at Chicago stadium, Jack Dempsey vs. King Levinsky, Chicago, heavyweights, exhibition, 4; Billy Jones, Philadelphia, negro, vs. George Nichols, Buffalo, light-heavyweights, 10.

Friday, at New York, Madison Square Garden, Young Terry, Trenton, N. J., vs. Chick Devlin, Vancouver, B. C., middleweights; Lew Feldman, New York, vs. Kid Francis, Italy, featherweights, and Billy Townsend, Vancouver, vs. Eddie Ran, Poland, welterweights, and Baby Joe Gans, Los Angeles, vs. Eddie (Kid) Wolfe, Memphis, welterweights, each 10.

Georgiaian Second In Tampa Races

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 14.—Before a crowd of 15,000, Buddy Callaway, Georgia racing driver, piloted his car, a Victory Six, to second place in the annual Florida state fair races here Saturday. He was barely beaten out of first place by Shorty Gingrich, of Tampa. Bobby Green, of Pittsburgh, was third.

Callaway and Wes Argo, an Atlanta boy, are building a car here for the Indianapolis speedway race May 30.

RECORD CLIPPED.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Katherine Rawlin, Fort Lauderdale, swimming star, clipped 43.25 seconds off the national women's 440-yard breast stroke record at the local casino this afternoon. The event was timed and sanctioned by the A. A. U.

Teams Continue Unbeaten March As Meet Nears

Georgia-Auburn Game Features Schedule for Week; Jackets Play Two Tilts.

By Dillon Graham, Associated Press Sports Writer.

With the championship basketball tournament less than a fortnight away, the Southern conference has yet to find a team powerful enough to halt Maryland or Kentucky, ranked one-two in 1931.

Apparently Kentucky, and possibly Maryland, will enter the annual titular meet here with perfect records. Kentucky today leads the parade of 23 teams with nine victories and no defeats, while Maryland, last year's champion, has seven wins and no setbacks.

Kentucky has but one game left on its schedule before the tournament starts February 26—Vanderbilt—and the Wildcats submerged the Commodores, 61-37, in their former engagement. Maryland has a tougher route, the Old Liners facing Washington and Lee, North Carolina and Duke this week.

Kentucky's vast court strength was decisively demonstrated last week as the Lexington team gave Alabama, one of the favorites, a severe lacing, 50-22, and sent Tennessee down under a 41-to-27 decision.

Maryland also showed improvement over its early season form in defeating Virginia, 46-18. Two weeks ago the Cavaliers held Maryland to a 36-31 victory.

Duke's win over North Carolina, 24-18, indicated that the Blue Devils, a threat in all recent tournaments, must be considered.

TECH SHINES.

Georgia Tech, an in-and-out performer all season, was at its height Saturday night as it beat Auburn, ranked along with Kentucky and Maryland as one of the real contenders, 38 to 28.

Virginia Polytechnic broke its eight-game losing streak by defeating V. M. I., 25-18, and then downed W. & L., 22-16. Sewanee beat Mississippi, 22-23, but lost to Mississippi State, 22-23, and to Alabama, 15-43. South Carolina split with Clemson, losing the first, 22-31, and winning, 24-22. Louisiana State completed Telane twice, 37-25 and 34-22.

Georgia plays Florida in the first of a two-game series at Athens Thursday, while Duke entertains W. & L. Louisiana State has a two-game re-engage at New Orleans starting Friday. Duke plays V. M. I. at Durham; Maryland tackles North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the team that forced the limit to win in last week's 26-25 North Carolina State meets W. & L. at Raleigh; Tennessee plays Vanderbilt at Knoxville, and Mississippi State meets Mississippi at Starkville.

Georgia plays Florida in the first of a two-game series at Athens Thursday, while Duke entertains W. & L. Louisiana State has a two-game re-engage at New Orleans starting Friday. Duke plays V. M. I. at Durham; Maryland tackles North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the team that forced the limit to win in last week's 26-25 North Carolina State meets W. & L. at Raleigh; Tennessee plays Vanderbilt at Knoxville, and Mississippi State meets Mississippi at Starkville.

Saturday's contests include Duke and Maryland at Durham, Kentucky and Georgia Tech at Atlanta, Florida and Vanderbilt at Lexington, North Carolina and W. & L. at Chapel Hill and N. C. State and V. M. I. at Raleigh.

STANDINGS.

TEAM	W	L	Pct.
Kentucky	9	0	1.000
Maryland	7	0	1.000
Alabama	10	8	.556
Auburn	8	2	.800
Virginia	5	3	.625
North Carolina	4	4	.500
Duke	4	3	.571
North Carolina State	4	3	.571
Georgia Tech	4	3	.571
Georgia	4	3	.571
Florida	4	3	.571
South Carolina	3	5	.375
Georgia Institute of Tech.	3	5	.375
Tennessee	4	4	.500
Mississippi State	4	4	.500
Mississippi	4	4	.500
Arkansas	4	4	.500
West Virginia	4	4	.500
Colgate	4	4	.500
V. M. I.	2	8	.200
Clemson	1	7	.125
Wake Forest	0	6	.000

Joe Knight Battles Don Petrin Tonight

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Joe Knight, of Cairo, Ga., defeated recently by Bob Godwin, of Daytona Beach, in a fight billed for the light-heavyweight championship of the south, will return to the ring here tomorrow night against Don Petrin, of Newark, N. J.

The bout headlines the weekly fight card at the Biscayne arena. Petrin fought Godwin to a draw a week after the Daytona Beach boy defeated Knight. Promoter Bobby Burke announced he had signed Denver Mickey Cohen, of Denver, Colo., and Pete Nebo, Key West Indian, for a return bout February 22. In the last meeting Nebo won the decision in a slashing 10-rounder.

Vines Is Defeated In Tennis Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Ellsworth Vines, national men's single tennis champion, suffered his first tournament defeat of the 1932 season here today.

He lost to Lester Stofen, of Los Angeles, ranked No. 15 nationally, in four sets in the men's single final of the annual city championship.

